An editorial

Voters in Ohio's 77th District will elect a new state representative when they go to the polls next Tuesday. The Record-Herald believes that Laurence A. (Bucky) Dumford can best fill that responsible office.

Dumford is dedicated, concerned, informed and articulate and we feel there is no question that he is the man best suited to represent the 103,000 residents in the 77th District of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Experience is the dominating factor in this year's race and the former three-term Fayette County commissioner who also worked with the Ohio legislature in formulating proposals to strengthen local government is exceptionally qualified for a role of leadership in public office.

The 45-year-old Dumford has a firm grasp of the issues which concern most residents in Fayette, Clinton, Madison and Highland counties and he has taken forthright and well-reasoned positions on public school financing, election reform, law enforcement and tax revision just to mention a few.

We believe that Dumford's election is commended not only by what he knows through his years of experience and interest in local government, but also - and more particularly - by what he is. What he is, of course, is a strong candidate whose motivation for seeking office is what he can give rather than what he can get.

And that belief is supported by the fact that he will establish an office here for the purpose of keeping in constant contact with 77th District residents.

The Record-Herald feels Dumford is the best choice and strongly urges his election to the 77th District seat.

Nixon undergoes leg operation

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — former President Richard M. Nixon's surgeon said today that "Mr. Nixon is doing well" following an operation to stop a blood clot in his left leg from traveling any further toward his heart or lungs.

Dr. Eldon Hickman, who performed the hour-long operation, said Nixon's condition was "stable." He said Nixon returned to his room on the top of Memorial Hospital Medical Center of Long Beach for recovery.

Nixon's personal physician had said the operation was required because the clots in Nixon's leg posed a threat to his life.

"With the threat the clot could become a pulmonary embolus, we placed a mild clip ... partially occluding but not completely occluding the vein," Hickman said. He said the clip was permanent.

He said the operation was uneventful and that the former president was "recovering in the normal manner."

The doctor said he had the usual postoperative effects of being sleepy and was confined to bed.

The operation began at 5:30 a.m. PST. None of Nixon's family was present at the hospital, but officials said his wife, Pat, was expected at the hospital later in the day.

Hickman said Nixon will probably be hospitalized for "another week," then the recovery would take four to six weeks at home.

Man charged on secret indictment apprehended

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies have arrested a Washington C.H. man who was indicted on secret bill last Friday. He had been charged with four theft-related felony counts.

Paul H. Hurler, 47, of 629 E. Paint St., had been charged with two counts of burglary, grand theft and possession of burglary tools. He was arrested on two separate secret indictments, one on charges by Sheriff's deputies and the other on charges filed by Washington C.H. police.

He allegedly participated with Paul R. Spence, 36, of Columbus, in a burglary and larceny from Associated Plumbers and Heaters, CCC Highway-W, the morning of Sept. 14. The burglary and possession of burglary tools charges stem from his alleged involvement in the breaking and entering at the Washington C.H. Elks Lodge, 222 N. Main St., at approximately 2 a.m. the same morning.

In all, four persons have been charged in the Elks lodge break-in. In addition to Spence and Hurler, John R. Forsythe, 33, of 703 E. Paint St., and Stanley Bellar, of Columbus, have been charged.

Forsythe is charged with four different counts. He had been arrested earlier and released on $6,000 bond. Bellar charged with one count of breaking and entering has not yet been apprehended, according to local law-enforcement officials.

Hurler, arrested Monday afternoon, is currently being held in the Fayette County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

'Big boy' OK'd break-in

Hunt fingers Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr. says a "rude awakening" brought on by release of the White House tapes persuaded him to stop lying about Watergate.

Hunt testified Monday at the Watergate cover-up trial that he lied more than a dozen times before grand juries in the spring of 1973, even though he could no longer have been prosecuted for his part in the Watergate break-in or subsequent attempts to cover it up.

Hunt, free on appeal from his guilty plea for the burglary, was to return to the witness stand today for the first cross-examination by defense lawyers who represent the five defendants — H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

As the sixth week of the trial opened Monday, the 56-year-old retired CIA agent said he read published transcripts of the presidential tapes last spring shortly after he was released from prison.

The tapes disclosed increasing discussions among former President Richard M. Nixon and aides about Hunt's continuing demands for money. Former White House counsel John W. Dean III told Nixon it was blackmail.

"I felt a sense of rude awakening and I realized that these men were not worthy of my continued or future loyalty," Hunt testified near the end of his first day on the stand.

By March 16, 1973, Hunt by his own testimony had received at least $165,000 for lawyers' fees and other expenses. However, by last spring the money had long since stopped.

Hunt cited another reason for telling the truth about Watergate. He said his four children "were not fully persuaded that the testimony I had given in prior public forums was in all respects factual and candid."

Hunt, a CIA agent for 21 years who now lives in Miami, was a major witness at the Senate Watergate hearings in the spring and summer of 1973.

He is testifying at the trial as a court witness, which allows Watergate prosecutors to ask questions that suggest the answers. Under that arrangement, agreed to by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, neither the prosecution or the defense vouches for Hunt's credibility.

Sirica on Monday suggested that when and if defense lawyers get Nixon on the stand, they might want him called as a court witness.

Nonetheless, most of the defense

lawyers complained repeatedly about the prosecution's unwillingness to stand behind Hunt's testimony.

Hunt was faced Monday by assistant special prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste, an aggressive, rapid-fire questioner, to whom Hunt lied during three separate grand jury appearances in 1973.

In a staccato series that built to an emotional pitch, Ben-Veniste established a pattern of lying, drawn from the grim-faced Hunt, whose voice trembled slightly.

Hunt acknowledged that even when he learned that another White House and Nixon re-election committee official had begun to appear before the grand jury, he still told some lies under oath.

He said that while he recanted some of the false grand jury testimony, he also lied before other public forums.

Hunt said that included his book, "Undercover Memoirs of a Secret American Agent," written last spring.

JOHN C. SAWHILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford announced today a major shake-up in the federal energy hierarchy, removing John Sawhill as administrator and replacing him with former Asst. Commerce Secretary Andrew E. Gibson.

Ford made the disclosure during an impromptu White House press conference. He also announced that former Air Force secretary and NASA official Robert Seamans would become head of the new Energy Research and Development Agency, and that former astronaut Bill Anders would head the new Nuclear Regulatory Agency.

Dixy Lee Ray, now head of the Atomic Energy Commission will become assistant secretary of State for international environmental and scientific matters, Ford said as the new appointees flanked him at the podium.

The President made clear that Sawhill's resignation was desired by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, whom he named three weeks ago to coordinate the federal government's energy policies.

The President said there were "no

major policy differences" with Sawhill, although there were perhaps "differences in approach and technique."

He said he decided that Morton "ought to have a right with my approval" to make changes in the ranks of federal energy officials, and that Sawhill "will be offered a first-class assignment" elsewhere in his administration.

Sawhill's resignation followed persistent rumors that some members of the Ford administration were trying to oust him, partly because of his outspoken urging of strong energy conservation measures. These included an additional 10-cent per gallon tax on gasoline.

The official said Sawhill had met with President Ford last Friday, but Sawhill himself said Monday that he had no "serious discussions" about resigning and no intention to resign.

Sawhill said Monday that he would stick to his position even if it cost his job.

Fayette Progressive School makes exception for pets

By SANDY FOSSON

Record-Herald Staff Writer
It has become a general rule that pets are not allowed inside school premises but the Fayette Progressive School made an exception Tuesday after students adopted a large, fluffy mongrel of unknown origin.

The multi-colored (bright orange and green checkered, in fact), "overstuffed" pet wandered into the school's auditorium with local members of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

What the students did not know was that the unusual pup could also talk. The stuffed animal, equipped with speakers and telephone wiring for communication, was donated by the club as another community service by the large, worldwide voluntary association of industrial employees.

The talking dog has been proven to be a considerable help to retarded and deaf children in speech therapy, said Ms. Mary Lou Ralston, spokesman for the group.

THE TELEPHONE Pioneers of America is an independent organization of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., which operates on its own time and funds, but is supported by the company. The club is composed of employees who have served 21 or more years in the telephone industry throughout the United States and Canada.

Established in 1911 with 700 members, the organization includes over 300,000 members

14 persons attend session

Variety of topics discussed in last special Council meet

A variety of topics were aired during the last of a series of special Washington C.H. City Council meetings Monday night at Cherry Hill Elementary School.

A total of 14 persons attended the fourth and final special meeting designed by City Council members to discuss the proposed 1.25 per cent income tax issue and other matters regarding city government operations. The 14 persons at Monday night's meeting doubled the total combined attendance at the three previous sessions. Only seven persons had attended previous meetings at Eastside, Belle-Aire and Rose Avenue elementary schools.

THE FIVE City Council members present at the meeting fielded an assortment of questions for over one and a half hours from area residents on a variety of topics.

Perhaps the most frequently discussed subject was the income tax proposal which will be decided by Washington C.H. voters at next Tuesday's general election.

An interesting point was mentioned by City Manager Dan Wolford when he explained to the audience that Toledo was the first Ohio city to impose an income tax in 1946 and now 363 Ohio cities are operating with income taxes of one per cent or more. He said Washington C.H. is one of only 23 Ohio cities without an income tax.

The lingering question of the possibility of Council imposing a mandatory city income tax if the 1.25 per cent levy is defeated at the polls

City Council

next Tuesday was discussed briefly. "Let's be perfectly honest," said Council member Mrs. Bertha McCullough, "we'll have to look for additional income."

Council would be permitted to impose a mandatory city income tax of one per cent or less, although opinions differ on alternatives should the issue be turned down by city voters.

The importance of the income tax approval was stressed by City Council members when they pointed out that the city is relying heavily on federal revenue sharing funds, which represent approximately eight per cent of the total city budget and nearly 25 per cent of the general fund.

About $90,000 of the revenue sharing funds are being used for the operation of the Washington C.H. Fire Department. The fire department operates on a budget of $160,000 per year. The department has 14 full-time men, one under its authorized strength.

Mrs. Charles Shaper, 4 Willis Court, and Glenn Whittington, 917 Clinton Ave., expressed a general dissatisfaction over traffic conditions in the area of Cherry Hill Elementary School.

MRS. SHAPER requested that Council install a safety device at a crosswalk on Van Deman Street behind Rose Avenue Elementary School. The suggestion will be investigated by Council's safety committee and considered at the next regular Council meeting. Whittington complained about speeding vehicles on Clinton Avenue posing a potential hazard to school children. He suggested that a flashing light be installed to reduce speeding in the area.

Chester Hamulak, 1028 Center St., attended the meeting representing the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union. The church is hoping to install an improved and enlarged bulletin board on its property and Hamulak inquired about the proper steps which should be taken since the sign became a controversial issue when considered several months ago.

Wolford said the church should submit a request to the City Office Building for permission to erect the bulletin board. The city manager indicated that approval from the City Zoning Board of Appeals would probably be required. Hamulak said neighborhood residents have expressed no objections to the sign installation.

Ford signs interlock bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signed a bill eliminating the federal requirement for a mandatory seat belt interlock system in cars, but says he still wants motorists to buckle up.

The unpopular interlock system had required motorists to buckle their seat belts before starting their cars. Although he signed the bill repealing the requirement, he said, "I give my strongest recommendation that all Americans follow the sound advice which tells us to buckle up for safety."

He also urged motorists Monday to observe the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit.

Perk gets Ford backing

By The Associated Press

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk's campaign organization planned to start using radio commercials featuring President Ford today in an effort to boost his uphill battle for the U.S. Senate.

James Foster, Perk's communications director, said the Republican nominee had received a 30-second tape recording from the White House in which Ford urges voters to support Perk over Democratic candidate John Glenn.

The commercial may be carried on 60 stations around the state during the final week of the campaign, Foster said. Cost was estimated at from $7,500 to $10,000, and Foster said part of the money has been raised.

In the commercial, Ford says: "As President of the United States, I have pledged to do the very best for our country. In solving the problems facing us, such as inflation, I need the help of able, dedicated members of the U.S. Senate whose advice and counsel I can rely on. I hope you will send a leader to the U.S. Senate by electing Ralph J. Perk."

In other political activity, Democratic Gov. John Gilligan said Monday published reports of "slush bucket politics" by his GOP challenger, James Rhodes, have become the overriding issue in the gubernatorial race.

Gilligan told a Newark gathering reports the former governor "tapped his political campaign funds" in the 1950s to buy a home and new car leave Rhodes with "no alternative now but to stand up and let the people know what's going on."

Gilligan referred to a copyrighted article in Sunday's Akron Beacon Journal which also said Rhodes used political contributions to help pay his federal income taxes.

"Well-meaning people wanted to help Rhodes get elected (by contributing to his campaign), but not to help him buy a new car or build a new home," the governor said.

Rhodes has not commented on the charges.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported today that primary campaign finance reports for Rhodes for the years 1956 and 1960 were missing from the secretary of state's files in Columbus.

However, James Marsh, assistant secretary of state, said the office is required to keep reports only for six years.

KSU trial resumes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The trial of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings resumes today after a four-day recess, with opening statements scheduled.

The trial was recessed by U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti Thursday after a jury of eight men and four women and six alternate jurors were seated following four days of examining about 60 prospects.

He said today would be taken up with opening arguments by government and defense attorneys and that the jury would visit the Kent State campus Wednesday.

Presentation of evidence probably will begin Thursday, the judge said.

On their visit to the campus the jurors will see where four students were killed and nine others wounded by National Guard troops on May 4, 1970.

The shooting incident erupted during a confrontation of the guardsmen and rock-throwing antiwar demonstrators. It ended four days of student protests of U.S. military involvement in Cambodia.

Battisti told the jurors before the Thursday recess that what they see on the campus will not be evidence in the trial. He said the case must be decided on the evidence presented in the courtroom and his instructions on the law applicable to the case.

A federal grand jury indicted the defendants under civil rights statutes last March 29 after spending nearly three months investigating the shootings.

The ex-guardsmen are charged with violating the rights of and assaulting and intimidating the students killed or wounded.

On trial are James D. McGee, 28, and Lawrence A. Shafer, 28, both of Ravenna; Ralph W. Zoller, 27, Mantua; Barry W. Morris, 30, Kent; Leon H. Smith, 27, Beach City; Mathew J. McManus, 28, West Salem; William E. Perkins, 28, Canton; and James E. Pierce, 30, Amelia Island, Fla.

About People

Danny Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lendil Manning of 803 Broadway, is a surgical patient in Children's Hospital, Columbus. He is in Room A-330.

The missing records are the reports filed by the James A. Rhodes for Auditor Committee, Rhodes' main fund-raising group while he was state auditor from 1952 to 1963.

At that time, Marsh said, the office kept one file copy which was made available to the news media and state officials. Now the office keeps a master copy and has copies available for public inspection.

Meanwhile, Rhodes' campaign headquarters announced a "Democrats for Rhodes Committee" had been formed in the Cleveland area. It quoted Mayor Angelo Wido of Brook Park as saying he was joined by a number of other Cuyahoga County Democratic leaders in the movement.

Rhodes campaigned in Cleveland Monday, where he pledged no new taxes, adjustment of state spending priorities to help schools and income tax reforms.

Today he was to begin a four-day, 25-city campaign swing, starting at Middletown.

Thomas Ferguson, Democratic candidate to succeed his father Joseph Ferguson as state auditor, disputed claims that the office has ignored irregularities by the Ohio Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Ferguson said one conviction already has been made as a result of an audit of the bureau in 1973 and another conviction is being pursued and funds are being returned.

Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, campaigning for GOP auditor candidate Roger Tracy Jr., said in Cincinnati Monday there were "examples of misfeasance, if not malfeasance, by the state auditor's office for not cleaning up the situation."

He said the auditor ignored the situation despite the fact that there were reports in 1972 of "alleged kick-backs and other irregularities."

Democrat Tony Hall, seeking to oust longtime Republican Secretary of State Ted Brown, proposed Monday to adopt a ballot absentee ballot to help sightless Ohioans vote.

Stock market crash anniversary noted

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street today marks its gloomiest anniversary, 45 years after the stock market began its dizziest fall in history on Oct. 28-29, 1929.

But even with numerous current troubles, including inflation, tight money and a slumping economy, traders can take heart that the bear market of 1974 and the great crash of 1929 are as different as night and day, many analysts agree.

For one thing, speculators in the '20s had free rein, untouched by any sort of governmental regulation. Since 1933, the Federal Reserve and the Securities and Exchange Commission have acted to keep the speculator in bounds, and usually have protected traders from outright market fraud.

The market also enjoys a degree of stability now compared with 1929 just from sheer size. There were about 1.5 million people in the market in 1929. Now there are about 30 million. If nothing else, panic would have further to spread in 1974.

Another difference, though less comforting, is how fast and far stocks fell in 1929 as against 1973-74. The crash of '29 was sudden, almost totally unexpected and horribly severe. In only two weeks, from Oct. 28 to Nov. 13, the Dow Jones industrial average shrank by 50.6 per cent, to 198.69.

On Oct. 28, 1929, traders watched the unautomated ticker struggle to keep up with a 12 million share turnover, then unheard of. The Dow fell a still unsurpassed 38.33 points.

The next day, even worse in terms of the spreading panic and the volume figure — a staggering 16 million — the Dow slid another 30.57.

"The market crashed at a time when almost everyone was bullish. It just came out of the blue," recalls analyst Lucien Hooper, then of the firm of Frazier, Kelcey & Co. and now of Thomson & McKinnon Auchincloss.

"An awful lot of people were in the market on very thin margin — maybe only 10 or 20 per cent. When the market started drifting down around Labor Day, it set off an avalanche of margin calls," Eldon Grimm of Birr, Wilson & Co. says.

The bear market of 1973-74 also has fallen about 50 per cent. The Dow, from a high of 1,051 on Jan. 11, 1973, has been as low as 584, on Oct. 4, 1974. The paper value of listed NYSE issues has gone in that period from $871.54 billion to about $450 billion now.

The 50 per cent drop the market has suffered since 1973 has taken almost two years. The Great Crash did the same thing in two weeks.

And the autumn crash in 1929 was only the beginning. By July 8, 1932, the value of Big Board stocks had gone from a high of $87 billion set Sept. 3, 1929, to a depth of $15.6 billion. And the Dow, which stood at 381.17 before the great crash, sank to 41.22 in 1932.

That meant that in 1929, unlike now, drops of 50 to 60 points in an individual stock were common. Issues worth hundreds of dollars in the 1920's bull market were worth pennies in 1932.

Stock prices up sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced sharply in accelerated trading today. Investors apparently were encouraged by the market's recent resilience in the face of a steady stream of bad economic news.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 12.75 at 646.59, and gainers led losers by better than 3 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the stage was set for the rally Monday, when the Dow recouped most of a large early loss despite a series of gloomy developments relating to the auto industry.

Armstrong Cork was the most active NYSE issue, up 1/4 at 15 1/2. A 112,000-share block traded at 15 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .85 to 68.27.

The Big Board's composite index of all listed common stocks climbed .73 to 37.77.

Houston Oil & Minerals topped the Amex most-active list, unchanged at 27 1/4.

Arab summit meet recognizes Arafat

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Arab summit conference has recognized Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization as the leadership of a future independent Palestinian state to be established after the West Bank of the Jordan River is liberated from Israel.

But the Arab leaders are leaving Egypt, Syria and Jordan a free hand in peace negotiations with Israel.

The endorsement of the Palestine guerrilla movement appeared to doom resumption of the Geneva Middle East peace conference soon since Israel refuses to deal with the PLO. Thus, the way appeared open for the individual, bilateral negotiations advocated by President Ford called 'sweetie'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Gerald R. Ford had some problem adjusting after being elevated from the House of Representatives. U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., a long-time friend of the President, had one too.

"We go back a long time calling each other Jerry and Bob," Taft recalled Monday. "The first time we met after Gerald Ford became president, I kept starting to say 'Jerry...' and then would catch myself and say, 'I mean Mr. President.'"

"I was embarrassed until some waitress called the President 'sweetie' three times.

"Then I relaxed and settled down to addressing him as 'you.'"

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt.

After three days of intensive discussions, the kings and presidents of the Arab nations agreed on a formula Monday that papered over the rival claims of the PLO and Jordan to control of the West Bank territory, which Jordan captured in the 1948 Palestine War and Israel took in the 1967 war.

A spokesman said the leaders unanimously approved a resolution "reaffirming the rights of the Palestinian people to set up an independent national authority, under the leadership of the PLO as the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people on any Palestinian land that is liberated."

"Arab countries must support this authority when it is established in all fields and at all levels," the resolution added.

King Hussein of Jordan and Arafat exchanged expressions of mutual support, the spokesman added. However, conference sources said the king expressed explicit "reservations" to the resolution. They explained that this would allow him to negotiate with Israel without being identified with the PLO.

The spokesman said the summit called on Egypt, Syria, Jordan and the PLO to organize relations among themselves so they can implement the summit decision. The other sources said this might produce agreement between the PLO and Jordan for Jordan to represent the Palestinians in negotiations with Israel.

The sources also reported that Sadat made clear he intends to pursue further peace efforts in the interests of Egypt. He thus refused to be boxed in by any complications that might result from the endorsement of the PLO.

Chilean government eases repression

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chile's military dictatorship has eased some of its repressive domestic policies, but there is no sign democracy will return soon, U.S. intelligence sources say.

When the generals overthrew the elected government of Marxist President Salvador Allende 13 months ago, they moved hard against anyone even remotely suspected of opposing the new regime, the sources said.

But the new government has eased its policies in the last six or seven months, the U.S. analysts said.

Two explanations are given for the shift.

First, the regime has increasing confidence in its own strength internally, primarily because an opposition has not formed. Second, the U.S. Congress has applied pressure with threats to cut off arms aid.

Chile's army is equipped almost entirely with U.S. weapons, and there are no other governments willing or able to become a major arms supplier to the junta.

The generals also realize they don't have many friends in the world and they need good relations with the United States, according to the American sources.

Still, this accommodating attitude has definite limits, their assessment holds.

The junta resents the congressional attitude, and U.S. experts are convinced such pressure won't work in the long run.

The generals are not about to become lackeys of Washington or be dictated to, is the way one analyst put it.

Even if all arms aid were ended, he said, the generals have enough equipment to handle any domestic problems. Their main problem would come if war broke out with traditional enemy Peru.

Chile would be hard put in such a fight, the sources said, but right now a Chile-Peru war is considered unlikely.

Viewed in this light, the U.S. experts say the best American policy is to keep Chile aware of criticism but continue arms supplies.

In any event, they add, the military regime appears to have little opposition in Chile and no return to democratic processes is expected for five or even 10 years.

Eljer plumbing plans shutdown

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The housing slump has forced the Eljer Plumbing Division of the Wallace-Murray Corp in Marysville to shut down production for November, the plant manager said Monday.

Art Charleton said the shutdown has forced the layoff of 67 hourly workers. Only four workers remain on the job to pack orders, he said.

"The shutdown is a result of the general slump in the housing market," Charleton said. "We have been getting very few orders and are caught with a large inventory."

The plant makes brass plumbing ware.

Black activist serves time

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati black activist James Hardy has begun serving the remaining 42 days of a 50-day jail sentence on a disorderly conduct sentence he received last spring.

The sentence resulted from a demonstration at a Hamilton School Board meeting last year.

Hardy is also awaiting sentence in Cincinnati after being convicted of sending a threatening letter to Cincinnati Police Chief Carl Goodin.

Fuel allocation warning

Trial balloon or not, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon's warning that last winter's nationwide fuel allocation program may be repeated has an ominous ring about it. In effect Simon is saying that unless American consumers make a concerted effort to save fuel the government will again step in to regulate consumption and thus avert drastic shortages.

The prospect is not one that many will welcome. For what Simon has in mind is a resumption of the program that was in effect during last year's

Arab oil embargo. As everyone keenly remembers, this did not entail simply cutting back industry fuel supplies; the impact was felt by millions of motorists who found themselves waiting in line at service stations to get gas for their cars, and by many who found it hard to get enough home heating oil.

The administration's goal, announced recently by President Ford, is to save a million barrels of oil a day. This would reduce daily imports from six to five million barrels. Such a substantial reduction will not easily be achieved. To realize the goal, millions will have to take the matter seriously and cut their own energy consumption — not only by driving less and at more fuel-economical speeds, but by keeping home and office thermostats turned down, using less electricity for lights and appliances, and so on.

It is a cause in which we can all play a helpful part. The alternative suggested by Simon should stimulate a sustained conservation effort.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . By Marquis Childs

The wrong choice

WASHINGTON — Damned if you do and damned if you don't. That is the wry conclusion of President Ford as he stumps across the country trying to pull Republican-congressional candidates out of the slough of despond.

He is being roundly scolded for playing the partisan game and thereby further dividing an already fractured nation. Instead he should be taking the high road to unity to pull people together for the common goal of fighting inflation. By denouncing the Democrats as big spenders in-state after state, he is betraying that goal. BUT IT takes practically no imagination to hear the chorus of complaint that would arise if he had followed the other course and had stayed in the White House with the image of a national leader. Hard-pressed Republicans would have denounced him, as they did Richard Nixon, for being indifferent not only to their fate, but to the future of the party. Whether he wrestled with the choice or whether he is just doing what comes naturally is of no moment, since the die is cast. He has tied his fortunes to GOP candidates, many of whom are almost certain to go down to defeat. In an election campaign marked by resounding apathy, even the President of the United States has failed to draw sizable and enthusiastic crowds.

In my opinion, the President made the wrong choice. I say this while realizing how difficult it would have been for him to say no to the appeals of one beleaguered candidate after another. The error of his choice has been compounded by his use of the threat that greatly enlarged Democratic majorities in Congress would jeopardize the Administration's foreign policy initiatives.

The blame on this score is broad enough to cover both parties. An example is the foreign aid mess. Conservative Republicans have consistently voted against aid.

With aid snarled over the Turkish stand on Cyprus, the hope that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger might employ foreign-aid grants to implement a Middle East peace is deferred if not canceled. During his shuttle diplomacy earlier this year, Kissinger had encouraged Egypt to believe in a $250-million grant which would be largely used to restore the Suez Canal and the ruined cities along the canal.

Likewise, the blame for inflation should be shared by both parties. Lyndon Johnson's escalation of the Vietnam war was one of the principal causes, with no tax increase to make up at least part of the deficit.

As a member of the House of Representatives, later minority leader, Gerald Ford voted for every Vietnam appropriation requested by President Johnson. With one comparatively minor exception, he voted for all the big arms bills before Congress during his 25 years there.

AT TIMES on the campaign trail Ford has made it sound as though the choice had been between sitting in his oval office in the White House and thinking or taking the Republican case to the country. That is an oversimplification that cannot be sustained in fact.

Sticking to the job of President, he might have helped to rescue funds for mass transit out of the clutches of the highway lobby. While his threat to veto the aid bill if it contained a ban on arms assistance to Turkey brought a compromise, a more direct and vigorous intervention might have moved aid out of the no-man's land where it languishes today.

The analogy with Harry Truman is false. Truman's give 'em hell campaign in 1948 came after he had been President for nearly four years. He was attacking a Republican majority in a congress that had divided on more or less clearcut party lines over social legislation. Inflation and recession were not factors.

Republicans in 1972 rang a change on George McGovern's far-out campaign promises with a plea that went "Come home, George McGovern." Maybe "Come Home, Gerald Ford" is right for a President crisscrossing the country and tying his future to a losing campaign.

Cincinnati keeps yellow fireplugs

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Fire Department, with backing from Safety Director Henry Sandman, will retain its yellow fireplugs.

The decision was a reply to Councilwoman Bobbie Sterne who suggested decorative painting to upgrade the city's appearance.

The fire department said it was hard pressed for funds to purchase paint for normal painting and that "fancy" painting might serve only to attract juvenile mischief.

Name Lancaster court judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Joseph R. Ralston, a former city attorney of Whitehall, has been appointed judge of the Lancaster Municipal Court by the governor.

Ralston fills a vacancy created by the death of Judge Charles Russell. He will serve until a successor is elected next year.

Ralston was the first director of the Legal Aid Society of Columbus and an assistant attorney general in Stark County.

Ohio Perspective

No carbon copy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The son of U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe may be a chip off the old block, but he emphasizes he's no carbon copy.

Independent and candid like his dad, Charles Rockwell Saxbe has a mind of his own. Often he and his father are at opposite ends of the spectrum.

"We don't agree on everything," said the 27-year-old third-year law student and budding politician. "We've had our disagreements."

Young Saxbe is considered a shoo-in for the Ohio House seat his father once held. He was born Nov. 2, 1946, the day his father was elected to that seat.

The 75th District is considered safe territory for a Republican. It currently is held by Rep. Charles E. Fry, F-75 Springfield, who dropped out to run unsuccessfully for governor.

The young Saxbe, known as "Rocky," won out over five other GOP hopefuls, topping the second-place finisher by 229 votes.

"You might call me landslide Saxbe," he quipped.

His November opponent, Courtney A. Metzger, 54, a marketing manager for a Springfield plant, has an uphill fight. While battling the Saxbe name, Metzger faces another handicap. The Ohio AFL-CIO has endorsed Saxbe. It also has contributed to his campaign financially.

Rocky's father also was elected to the House while in law school. He became House speaker, then Ohio attorney general, a U.S. Senator before moving to the job he now holds.

The younger Saxbe said he doesn't have any ambitions along those lines at this point.

"I guess it's only natural I headed into politics," he said. "I've lived with it all my life."

"I think there is a common sense solution to most of our problems. It sometimes appears that's a commodity that isn't being used."

In 1970-1971, Saxbe was a Marine platoon commander in Vietnam. He admitted when he first went there he wasn't as interested in government service.

"I used to tell some of the guys, 'Hell, when we get out of here we'll hook up with a presidential candidate as an advance man. That's where the money and the chicks are.'"

His attitude changed while he was overseas. He began to wonder about the war. And, despite his father's pleas at the time, he began to dislike Nixon.

The combat lieutenant began page one news across the country when a Democratic U.S. senator from California read on the Senate floor a letter criticizing the war.

It didn't take newsmen long to learn that the author was the son of another senator. It was a letter home to Saxbe's senator father. About the same time the elder Saxbe began questioning the course Nixon had charted.

"When I got back I didn't see any presidential candidate I could work for," said Saxbe.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Newly-rich, he wants armor against goldiggers

DEAR ABBY: I have had lots of problems but I never had one like this, so here goes my first Dear Abby letter. I am a 57-year-old working man. I lived with my folks most of my life, but they are both dead now, so I'm living alone.

When I was younger I would ask girls for dates, but I got turned down, mostly because I wasn't very good-looking and didn't have much money. Being alone so much caused me to be kind of shy. I never enjoyed being alone, I just got used to it.

Well, I took a chance on the state lottery, and won $100,000. I had never won anything in my life. I still can't believe it, but it's true. Now I've got so many friends (mostly women), I almost have to hide.

I would like some female companionship, but don't want to end up married to some gold-digger. I don't have any experience at all when it comes to judging women, Abby, so how can I protect myself?

E.B. IN ATTLEBORO, MASS.

DEAR E.B.: Don't go in for anything as permanent as marriage until you know the woman well enough to trust her completely. Then see a lawyer about a pre-nuptial agreement. (He'll explain it to you.) You took a chance on a lottery and won, and marriage is a bit of a gamble, too, but the better you know the candidate, the smaller the risk.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and her husband (married only a few months) both go to college and live with me. He is a fine young man and I like him, but he has one serious fault. He will not get up in the morning for his classes.

It breaks my heart to see my daughter calling him, going back to their bedroom, shaking him, pleading with him, and wearing herself out trying to get him up in the morning.

He was dropped from his 8 o'clock class because he missed so many classes. Naturally, he lost that credit. Now he is sleeping through his nine o'clock classes!

I have wanted to tell her to simply pour ice water on him, but I've used remarkable restraint staying out of this daily hassle. Any suggestions?

MOM

DEAR MOM: He's your daughter's problem, not yours. If she were wise, she'd wake him once only, set the alarm to give him a five-minute grace period, then go about her business. If he knows he has to get up he will. And if he doesn't, let him suffer the consequences.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many people realize the difference between the way HER mother is treated and the way HIS mother is treated?

So many young husbands are so busy with earning a living that they leave such matters entirely to their wives, and consequently on Mother's Day, HER mother will be honored, and when (and if) it's convenient, HIS mother will be honored.

Another thing. Let's have a Grandma's Day for HIS mother. With so many broken marriages these days, the paternal grandmother loses all contact with her grandchildren. It's always HER mother who gets to see the grandchildren, and do for them. HIS mother loses out and is soon forgotten.

My son is married and divorced. His wife has the children, and now it's almost as though I have no grandchildren. Maybe if you print this, it will be seen by mothers who don't realize the hurt some grannies suffer from divorce. Thank you.

MISSING MY GRANDCHILDREN

DEAR MISSING: When marriages break up, there is usually bitterness on the part of the wife. And just or not, she usually gets the kids. There are exceptions, but the ex-wife doesn't usually feel too kindly toward her ex-laws, and part of the punishment she feels "his family" has coming is depriving them of their grandchildren.

World Community Day to be observed Friday

World Community Day will be celebrated by Church Women United on Friday, Nov. 1, in First Presbyterian Church beginning with a noon luncheon, and followed by a meeting in the sanctuary at 1:15 p.m. The noon luncheon will be served in Persinger Hall, and prepared by the Presbyterian Women. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Mrs. Mark T. Dove will read the Scripture, and the Madrigal Choir from Washington Senior High School will present special music under the direction of Mr. Charles L. Shaffer. Mrs. John P. Case is the organist.

Mrs. Gerald Wheat will speak concerning the theme. Mrs. C.L. Lewellen is chairman of World Community Day, and Mrs. Charles Hurtt is Church Women United president.

The origin of World Community Day can be traced to the week of Pearl Harbor when the constituting convention of the United Council of Church Women met in Atlantic City. "As the nations were flying apart, the women were coming together," said Amy Welcher who became the first president of this interdenominational Council which was the forerunner of Church Women United. One of the first acts of this newly formed Council was to inaugurate a day of peace in 1942. The next year this observance became known as World Community Day and was concerned with the price of an enduring peace. Every year since then, World Community Day has been celebrated by Church Women United on the first Friday in November. Each year a specific issue is chosen to emphasize corporate action for justice and peace.

The theme for this year's World Community Day, "Discover the Aspiring Majority," leads into the subject matter of the United Nations International Women's Year which will be observed in 1975. As women, who are now a majority in the world, examine their values and goals, they will discover the aspirations that bind them together. In celebrating this Day women will be giving expression to the stated goals of the International Year which are those of striving for justice for women, and increasing their participation on all levels to bring the welfare of the world and the course of peace nearer to realization.

On World Community Day, Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox women will unite in worship services to manifest the hopes, concerns, and joy they share with women everywhere. Participation in a nationwide offering, which goes into a fund called Intercontinental Mission, will help Church Women United, through approved agencies, fulfill its goals of justice and peace. The following are some concrete examples of witness and service rendered through this Fund: continuing educational programs for women in Christian colleges overseas; underwriting a women's staff working on social and economic development in the islands of the Caribbean; delivery of vocational training and health services in Lebanon; community and water development projects in Kenya, Botswana, Ghana, Zambia, Zaire, Brazil and Costa Rica; rebuilding of the women's training center in Nigeria destroyed during the Biafran War; support of programs for international students in urban areas in the U.S.A. and continuing educational scholarships for overseas women; funding for a canning project to help American Indian women combat malnutrition through a food preservation program.

Break-even point for cattle $44

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cattle feeder who bought 600-pound steers and all his feed last month would have to get nearly $44 per hundredweight for the finished animals next March to break even, according to Agriculture Department experts.

Prices of choice steers at Omaha lately have been running about $39 per 100 pounds. Economists say those could rise to a range of $43 to $45 on the average during the first quarter of 1975.

Meanwhile, livestock analysts in the department's Economic Research Service have computed costs for producing a choice 1,050-pound steer in the Corn Belt, based on what expenses would have been in September.

A 600-pound feeder steer would have cost $182.94 last month, on the average. About 45 bushels of corn for feed rations was put at $148.05 to carry the animal through next March to reach its market weight.

Other expenses, including silage, protein supplement, hay, labor, veterinary services and transportation to market, would have added to the bill. The total expense: $458.66 per steer.

Thus, according to the figures, a producer would have had to get $38.18 per hundredweight for the finished steer just to cover the original cost of the feeder animal and its rations.

When all other expenses are included, the producer would have to get $43.69 per hundredweight next March to break even.

The price of feeder cattle has tumbled the past year, currently ranging close to $30 per hundredweight in some areas. A year ago they were bringing $65 per 100 pounds or more.

The analysis was included in a livestock and meat situation report for October. It showed feedlot cattle, if carried to full term on grain, have been losing between $6 and nearly $10 per hundredweight all year, roughly $60 to $100 per head.

But the report also noted the shift in cattle feeding practices and predicted that some feeding operations can make a little money, given the right breaks.

"Cattle feeders who have been buying older, heavier cattle this summer and feeding them for 60 to 90 days have realized a more favorable return than those on longer feeding programs," the report said.

But the report also noted the sharp decline in feedlot cattle and said the trend probably will continue "well into 1975" because of high feed costs in relation to market prices.

No leads on Patty, family says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The lawyer for Patricia Hearst's parents said Monday the Hearsts have no leads "that seem worthy of consideration" in the search for their 20-year-old fugitive daughter.

James MacInnis said the Hearsts rejected former gangster Mickey Cohen's recent offer to help effect their daughter's return because they feared it might involve new violence and she would be harmed.

"There isn't anything right now that seems worthy of serious consideration," MacInnis said of the search for Miss Hearst and two fellow Symbionese Liberation Army fugitives. "But I am sure that other information will develop."

He said he relayed by telephone a week ago the decision not to accept Cohen's offer, which Miss Hearst's father, San Francisco Examiner President and Editor Randolph Hearst, said amounted to a plan to kidnap Miss Hearst.

Hearst and his wife, Catherine, "thought Mr. Cohen was sincere but they thought that persons unknown to them would be carrying out the plan and of course the results would be entirely speculative."

Food poisoning being probed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Health Department officials are awaiting tests to determine what was responsible for the food poisoning of 100 persons at a church dinner Sunday.

Charles Lenzer, department spokesman, said results of tests on food served at the Merrill Baptist Church will not be known for several days.

Kissinger says U. S. policy on neutral nations changed

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says the United States government has abandoned its Cold War opposition to governments that take neither side in America's rivalry with the Soviet Union.

"The United States accepts nonalignment," Kissinger said Monday in a major address to the Indian Council of Foreign Affairs. "In fact, America sees a world of free, independent, sovereign states as being decidedly in its own national interest."

Kissinger acknowledged that Washington is partly in debt to the late Jawaharlal Nehru, India's first prime minister and one of the pioneer advocates of nonalignment, for "this new American view." He suggested it might have been adopted earlier.

He said that at least now, "support of national independence and of the diversity that goes with it has become a central theme of American foreign policy."

A U.S. official said this was the first high-level U.S. government declaration endorsing nonalignment.

Clearly pleased with his goodwill visit and his meetings Monday with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Foreign Minister Y.B. Chavan, Kissinger said in a dinner toast: "We talked to each other for the first time in a long time free of complexes."

He said when U.S. officials talk to Indians now, they do not seek "moral approbation ... We now realize that what ties us together is a common perception of the kind of world which leaves both of us secure and in which both can prosper."

In reply, Chavan said he thought Kissinger's visit "will prove to be an important step and marks a landmark in our relationship."

U.S. Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan told newsmen that President Ford had accepted "in principle" an invitation to visit India but a date has not been set.

Coal buying approved by board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Controlling Board has given an Ohio government agency blanket authority to purchase up to $5 million worth of coal to stockpile as protection against a possible miners strike.

The Department of Administrative Services asked for and received "blanket authorization to purchase coal, without competitive bidding, whenever it is available."

The action came two weeks before a Nov. 12 strike deadline set by the United Mine Workers in negotiations with coal companies.

The Ohio Emergency Energy Commission last Friday pledged to "continue and intensify efforts to build coal stockpiles to assure continuation of essential services throughout the state."

An administrative services spokesman conceded the $5 million price tag might leave the state open to "price gouging," but told the board that eastern power companies have been coming into the state to buy coal with "blank checks."

"It puts the state at a disadvantage," he said.

The board gave the Mental Health and Retardation Department authority to buy $99,000 worth of coal for the Orient State Institution, southwest of Columbus.

The request was almost withdrawn after the state was given blanket authorization to buy coal, but the board decided the $33 a ton price was a bargain.

Kiwanis clubs in the south central Ohio district attended. Clubs in downtown Columbus, the west side of Columbus, Westgate, Hilliard, London, Hilltop, Dublin, West Jefferson, West Franklin and Grove City were represented.

Ohio Kiwanis Governor Ford Adam addressed the group and complimented the Washington C. H. club on a very successful year under Gibbs' leadership. Lt. Governor Bob Dunkel also congratulated the local club for its past performance and wished newly-installed president Guy Foster continued success.

Gibbs presented distinguished service awards to the chairman of each committee serving during his term.

In addition, he recognized the fine work handled by Roger Kirkpatrick, club secretary, and Tom Mossbarger, treasurer.

During the dinner, the group was entertained by the Miami Trace Folksingers, under the direction of Mrs. Rick Stinson. Later in the evening the Northridge Lions Club, Springfield, provided additional entertainment. The group of Lions and Lionesses provided a program of humorous songs, stories and skits.

Mr. and Mrs. James Teeters attended the meeting as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jennings.

Urge energy constitution

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Creation of a "national energy constitution" would be an ideal way to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday, the chairman of the B.F. Goodrich Co. said Monday.

Such a document, permitting interpretation for adaption to change, would make possible more effective, less costly planning for energy requirements, O. Pendleton Thomas told the Rubber Manufacturers Association's fourth environmental conference.

An energy-environmental blueprint would serve the nation "regardless which person or what political party has control of the executive and legislative branches of the federal government," Thomas said.

It would be an ideal way to mark the U.S. bicentennial, by "building for the future as our forefathers did nearly 200 years ago," he said.

Realtors hear farm loan talk

Howard Ford, of the Production Credit Association, was the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Fayette County Board of Realtors.

President Ann Polk presided over the noon luncheon meeting at the Terrace Lounge with C. W. (Bud) Mustine as program chairman.

Ford spoke to the 20 realtors and associates on his role in helping farmers with short-term loans. The maximum term for the farm loans is seven years, he said.

Ford explained that Production Credit Association obtains its money from the sale of FICB bonds and that the interest charged to the farmer is governed by the amount of interest to be paid when selling the bonds. These short-term loans are used to buy almost anything associated with farming, including second mortgage money to purchase a farm, he added.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 25 and will feature the election of officers.

The success story of

"Satisfaction Always"

This Wise Old Philosophy [From 75 Years Ago] Has Made
K mart the World's Fastest Growing Discount Retailer Today!

Our First Kresge's in 1899 ...

It All Began in 1899 ...

The dreams of a farm boy, Sebastian S. Kresge, became a reality in 1899, when our first Kresge store opened in downtown Detroit and proclaimed "Nothing over 10¢." Although it first began with only nickles and dimes, our corporate philosophy has been always to give the customer genuine savings PLUS the assurance of being completely satisfied or having their money promptly refunded. This credo contributed to Kresge's early public acceptance and resulting growth in the fifties to the second largest variety chain in the United States.

A New Milestone in 1962 ...

Sixty-three years later, just 20 miles from the location of our first "five and dime" store, our first K mart discount department store opened in suburban Detroit and proclaimed "discount prices on first quality merchandise - no seconds or irregulars." Once again metropolitan Detroiters showed their confidence in the Kresge Company "Satisfaction Always" credo by shopping and saving like never before, the one fundamental difference being that K mart offered a wider range of merchandise for the family, home and car at big-discount prices.

And Still Growing in 1974 ...

This year is our 75th anniversary celebration. Overwhelming public acceptance has generated the growth of K mart to its position today as the world's fastest-growing discount retailer with over 750 stores by year-end serving millions of families in the United States and abroad. We're proud that "K mart is all the things a great store should be." Come in and find out for yourself that shopping and saving is real fun ... the K mart way.

New auto electrical analysis set

TROY, Mich. (AP)—Smart, low-cost electrical systems that make driving easier and safer and quickly diagnose auto illnesses should mean billions of dollars per year in new business for the electronics industry, the vice chairman of TRW Inc. said Monday.

"Electronic technology has now advanced to the point where, fortunately, it can fulfill stringent requirements suddenly thrust on the automobile designer," said Dr. Simon Ramo of the Cleveland-based conglomerate.

Ramo's remarks were prepared for an address at the convention on auto electronics of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

"Meeting these needs—as well as new standards of safety, attaining improved driving ease in growing city traffic, lowering maintenance expense in an inflationary world and providing quick and reliable diagnosis of the car's condition—are tasks ideally suited to the new electronics capabilities," Ramo said.

He said devices and systems which can sense, transfer, process, store and use information now are 10 to 100 times cheaper, faster, more versatile, more rugged, smaller and less hungry for power than their predecessors.

"The automotive designer, as a result, can now justify an investment of hundreds of dollars per car in auto electronics," Ramo said.

Office created for insurance of state property

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Administrative Services has created an office to prepare plans to insure the state's property, Joseph J. Sommer, department director, announced Monday.

Former director of insurance, risk and property management at Ohio State University, Henry Anderson, has been appointed chief of the new Office of Risk Management, Sommer said.

In the past Ohio has not insured its property, but the state faces the potential loss of millions of dollars from disasters such as tornadoes, floods and fire, Sommer said.

"We cannot escape some losses resulting from natural disasters... or some major fire damage, but it is also possible to have coverage to reduce the financial burden when some losses occur," Sommer said.

DISEASES OF THE FOOT

THE DOOR IS OPEN — Dr. Robert L. Fierman has announced that his office, located at 312 E. Market St., will now be open four days per week. The doctor has decided to close his Columbus office and keep the door in Washington C.H. open more hours each day. He and his family will be residing here.

Podiatrist opens full-time practice in Washington C.H.

Dr. Robert L. Fierman, podiatrist, has begun a full-time practice in Washington C.H. He and his family have purchased a home and plan to make Washington C.H. their permanent residence.

Dr. Fierman and his former associate, Dr. Fred R. Knopf, first began to practice in Washington C.H. during May, 1973. They took over the office used for many years by Dr. William E. Lawyer. The office is located at 312 E. Market Street.

Dr. Knopf has since left to open his own practice in Mount Vernon, and Dr. Fierman has manned the office here alone for the past three months. In addition to the office in Washington C.H., Dr. Fierman has maintained another office in Reynoldsburg, a Columbus suburb.

However, he has now closed the Reynoldsburg office and will be available here four days each week. He will hold office hours on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. During the week, the office will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday hours will be 9 a.m. until noon.

A native of Cleveland and a 1967 graduate of Ohio State University, Dr. Fierman completed his medical studies at the Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine in Cleveland. He served his internship in Columbus before opening the office here.

Dr. Fierman said that he chose to settle in Washington C.H. because of the small-city atmosphere. Although the city itself has a limited patient potential, this is offset by the fact that he has patients from Sabina, Wilmington, London, Mount Sterling and other surrounding areas. He also expects Fayette County to grow in population in the future.

"This is a growing community, with a strong influx of industry, yet it has avoided the impersonal rat-race aura that pervades many other areas," he said.

He talked briefly on the podiatrist's role in medicine. "We are not foot-doctors," he said, "we are doctors who have elected to specialize in the treatment of foot ailments — there is a big difference." He noted that podiatrists must be able to recognize a wide range of medical problems because any one of them may have an effect on other parts of the body, including the feet.

A number of his patients are sent by other doctors. "No one should feel a doctor is professionally inadequate because he sends his patient to another doctor," he said. "The medical field is too vast for anyone to know every area in depth — that is why doctors specialize in a particular facet of medicine," he noted. He concluded by saying, "Referrals are a means of offering the patient the expertise of someone who is more familiar with the patient's particular problem."

He and his wife, Nancy, will be residing at 1252 Nelson Place. Their son, Adam, who is five, will be attending kindergarten classes at Belle-Aire Elementary School.

First Lady at show

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Betty Ford has made her first major public appearance since undergoing surgery for breast cancer as honorary head of the Washington International Horse Show.

The Fords — President Ford was there, too — arrived in time Monday night to watch an exhibition of foxhounds and a competition open to riders who are diplomatic officers or their spouses.

The Fords were in evening attire — the President in tuxedo, Mrs. Ford wearing a navy wool gabardine evening dress with a navy fox collar.

ELECT
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

77th DISTRICT

DEMOCRAT

THE CANDIDATE WITH THE PROVEN ABILITY

POSITION ON TAXATION

This is a complicated area of discussion and I cannot fully explain my position in this short advertisement, however, I would like to be on record concerning a few major points.

I. The present tax structure of Ohio will provide sufficient revenue to operate the state and provide additional funds for further tax revision and reduction in some needed areas. Therefore, I will vigorously oppose any increase in taxes going into the general fund of this state in the next two years.

II. We should continue to use state collected taxes to support schools and take the burden off of rural farm lands. The court ordered re-appraisal of these lands should not mean an automatic increase in taxes without voter approval. If funds become available, I would support a further roll back in real property taxes.

III. I will oppose any attempt by the Ohio Department Of Transportation to divert revenues collected from gasoline and license fees and presently used on rural roads and bridges, into mass transit systems in the metropolitan areas.

IV. I support and will introduce, if necessary, legislation to eliminate the personal property tax on inventories. This is a cost of business operation that should be removed. It should be done over a period of 5 years so as to allow for the replacement of lost revenue to school districts. Taxes are collected so as to provide a high level of necessary services with a minimum of waste and overlap.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Sand had just finished a Chinese lunch when three ladies at a nearby table arose, walked over, gave him a card and asked him to autograph it. He was obviously pleased. So were the ladies.

One ventured a jest: "I didn't recognize you without your bass."

But a man at the next table thought Sand was Joe Namath.

So it goes these days for the 34-year-old star of CBS' "Friends and Lovers," the new Saturday night series in which he plays a bachelor who plays the big bass viol in the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The shaggy-haired, sad-faced actor, born in Los Angeles, was in Fun City to bow up some publicity for his show which, sandwiched between "All in the Family" and "Mary Tyler Moore," has few ratings worries.

But Sand seems a worrier by nature, the sort of guy who'd probably be happiest running a grief swap shop. At the interview, he was fretting because CBS hasn't said yet if it'd renew the show for 13 more weeks.

"All the earmarks are that it will be," he said. "But who knows? I would like it to be picked up because I'd like to use what I've learned so far to make the next 13 more solid."

Learn? There doesn't seem much more learning needed for someone who began studying acting at 11, left home at 18 for a year with Marcel Marceau's mime troupe in Paris, worked with Chicago's "Second City" gang and won Broadway's "Tony" award in 1970 for his work in "Story Theater."

Sand now has the floor: "Well, I was totally intimidated by television. It took me years to get comfortable on the stage and then this opportunity came."

"I'd done a couple of things, like one shot on the 'Mary Tyler Moore' show" — he played an auditor — "and three Carol Burnett shows, but this show was really like being in a new school."

He said he felt his timing was off initially and, although the show's writers toiled mightily, "they were writing for an actor who can tell jokes. I can do situations, but I can't tell jokes."

"For a while, next to my name, they'd write 'joke' in the script. Because I'd go, 'I don't get it. What does this have to do with the story?'"

He says he's gotten over that, is now considerably more at ease, but hopes there'll be fewer one-liners and more of a story line in future shows — if, of course, CBS renews the thing.

Although much of the show is built around the fact the hero plays and lugs around a bass fiddle, Sand is the first to admit he'd have trouble squeezing a tune out of a kazoo.

He said he took lessons on the bass from Don Palma, formerly with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and now a free-lancer here.

"It was a funny relationship," he mused. "Because I'd go to his house to take lessons and I was a student with no talent."

"But he'd forget that I was just there to learn how to fake it. And he often wanted to scream at me. Thank God, he'd always snap out of it. We're pretty good friends now."

Welfare slashed by about third

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The Butler County Welfare Department has cut welfare assistance by nearly a third after ceilings for all 88 Ohio counties were established by the Ohio Department of Public Welfare.

William E. Schaffner, director of the Butler County department, said his department has been limited to $248,000 or a little more $20,000 a month.

"We have been averaging over $30,000 a month for the first three months of this fiscal year," Schaffner said.

He said no emergency assistance will be paid for furniture and appliances, clothing, home repairs, housing or utility deposits.

Kroger notes earnings rise

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Kroger Co., a 20-state supermarket chain, reported nearly doubled earnings for the third quarter compared with the same period in 1973. Earnings were $13.1 million compared to $6.7 million the previous year. James P. Herring, Kroger president and chief executive officer, said higher sales volume and the company's efforts to control costs, particularly in store operation and distribution, produced the earnings improvement. Sales for the quarter ending Oct. 5 were $1.474 billion, an increase of 16.8 per cent or $212 million over 1973 third quarter sales of $1.262 billion. Kroger also announced an increase in 1974 expansion plans. The firm said it will build 110 new stores instead of 80 as earlier announced.

Few changes in ratings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Warren Harding, Wheelersburg and McDonald retained their leads today in the weekly Associated Press Ohio high school football poll.

A statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, in one of the most formful weeks of this season, placed only one new face in each of the top tens.

Fremont Ross, unbeaten and once tied in eight games, crashed the Class AAA elite, taking over the No. 10 position.

Findlay, eighth a week ago fell all the way to 20th after losing to Elyria 14-0.

Wellington, 8-0-0, moved into the Class AA top ten, seizing the 10th spot. Shelby dropped from seventh to 13th, losing to Tiffin Columbian 21-14 to make room for Wellington.

In Class A, Lisbon Anderson advanced one spot to 10th, switching places with Montpelier, a 12-8 victim of Archbold last week.

Warren Harding piled up 246 points to keep the Class AAA lead. Canton McKinley, the big school leader earlier in the season, again was No. 2 with 222 points and Cincinnati Moeller, also 8-0-0, third with 173 points.

Wheelersburg had the closest fight on its hand. The Class AA leaders owned 196 points, only eight in front of runner-up Minerva. Both are 8-0-0. Akron St. Vincent—St. Mary, 7-1-0, was third with 162 points.

In Class A, leading McDonald earned 197 points, Runnerup Bluffton 180 and third-place Windham 177.

Upper Arlington retained the fourth spot in Class AAA with Warren Western Reserve moving into a fifth-place deadlock with Cincinnati Elder. Dover was seventh, New Philadelphia eighth and Youngstown Mooney ninth.

In Class AA, Toronto held on to fourth, followed by Dayton Jefferson, Norwalk, Cincinnati Wyoming,

Louisville Aquinas, Columbus Waterson and Wellington.

In Class A, Windham jumped a notch to No. 4 and Canal Winchester two spots to fifth. Covington kept the sixth spot, Midvale Indian Valley North leaped two positions to seventh, Newark Catholic kept eighth, Plain City Alder tumbled from third to ninth and Lisbon Anderson was No. 10.

Bradshaw, Harris pilot Steelers' win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Terry Bradshaw predicted it. He's back, so is Franco Harris and so is the Pittsburgh Steelers' running game.

"And it feels good, real good," Bradshaw said after he made his first quarterback start this year and Harris rushed for a career high of 141 yards in a 24-17 victory over the Atlanta Falcons on Monday night's nationally televised National Football League game.

On opening day, Bradshaw was on the bench behind Joe Gilliam, who led the NFL preseason passers by throwing almost twice as often as Bradshaw had in Pittsburgh's two previous playoff seasons.

"Joe's had the hot hand," Bradshaw said in September, "but the time will come when we have to establish a running threat. My style is ball control and I'll wait until this thing runs its course."

After Gilliam's 5-for-18 passing day in a narrow win last week over Cleveland, Coach Chuck Noll opted for Bradshaw, even though the Steelers were atop the AFC Central Division.

"It was pretty much a return to the bread and butter," Noll said after the Pittsburgh climbed to 5-1-1 and Atlanta fell to 2-5 under beleaguered Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We battled them. We fought as hard as we could," said Van Brocklin, target of a "Dump the Dutchman" campaign in Atlanta.

The Steelers pounded out a season high of 235 yards rushing against the Falcons, and stumpy Rocky Bleier added 78 yards to Harris' career high total.

"I get a kick out of making the running game go," said Bradshaw, who completed nine of 20 passes for 130 yards with two interceptions.

It was the first 100-yard game of the season for Harris, who had a career high of 28 carries, and he gained all but 29 of his ground yards in the second half. He also ran 29 yards with a swing pass from Bradshaw to set up the winning touchdown.

Harris, who had rushed for 206 yards previously this season, powered seven yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

Hayes happy with Griffin rushing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Woody Hayes contends his 200th college football victory lacks the personal impact of a national rushing record for Archie Griffin, both in sight Saturday for top-ranked Ohio State.

"That 200th victory won't mean a doggone thing to me," the Buckeyes' coach for 24 football seasons said Monday.

"We've got too many games to play yet," said Hayes, preparing for invading Illinois this week.

Now an 18th straight 100-plus rushing day for Griffin is something else for Hayes.

"I can jump up and down on that one," he said. "That's a team situation. It belongs to the other team members as much as Arch."

Griffin, a 180-pound tailback, is now tied with Oklahoma's Steve Owens for the national record of 17 regular season games in a row of 100-plus yards rushing.

Why has Griffin gone past 3,400 career yards as a junior?

"The biggest single reason is Arch himself," Hayes replied. "He's the best. He's the most determined athlete I've seen. And he's been most fortunate to play behind exceptionally good lines."

Hayes said Ohio State's I formation has been a big plus for Griffin, too.

"He can hit any hole on that entire line of scrimmage," his coach said. "Opponents can't overshift. If they do, they pay for it."

Archie Griffin top Big Ten Player

CHICAGO (AP) — Archie Griffin, Ohio State's incomparable tailback, has been named the Big Ten Player of the Week on offense by The Associated Press.

It marks the second time this season the junior from Columbus, Ohio, has won the award.

Griffin, whom Coach Woody Hayes calls "the greatest," led the Buckeyes to a 55-7 victory over Northwestern Saturday as he rambled 173 yards in 18 carries and scored one touchdown.

Al Tabor wins praise by Skorich

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Tabor stood unnoticed on the sidelines during the Cleveland Browns victory Sunday, but Coach Nick Skorich credited him with playing a major part in overcoming the 12 point deficit.

Tabor is coach of the specialty teams and it was those units that supplied two superb plays that helped the Browns nip the Denver Broncos 23-21 in the final minutes of their football game Sunday.

"Al is always telling the teams that we need two big plays a game in order to win," Skorich said.

One of those plays was a successful fake punt-pass play and the other was Greg Pruitt's 72-yard punt return. Both plays led to touchdowns.

"Tabor came over to me and suggested the punt-pass play during the first half, like he does every game," Skorich said. "I told him that they (Denver) were covering our receivers good, but he said that Van Green (a cornerback) was fast enough to beat the coverage."

"And right after that play he had the punt return team over on the sidelines in a circle telling them they were going to go all the way."

Brian Sipe replaced quarterback Mike Phipps early in the fourth quarter and engineered the two touchdowns necessary to win and Skorich said that Wednesday will be the day that he decides if Sipe will get the starting spot in next Sunday's contest against the Chargers in San Diego.

Anderson hints at Perez trade

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson doubted whether the Houston Astros would give up third baseman Doug Rader and indicated Reds first baseman Tony Perez might be dealt.

Anderson answered fans questions on the Reds weekly "Redline" radio program in Cincinnati and Dayton Monday night via telephone from his home in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

The Cincinnati manager said the Reds have been without a "first rate" third baseman for five years with the exception of Dennis Menke. Dan

Driessen "is not a third baseman, there's no reason to cover for him," said Anderson adding that Driessen was in that position for his bat.

Anderson denied earlier reports that the Reds had offered reliever Clay Carroll, outfielder Ken Griffey and another player to Houston for Rader.

"It's not true," said Anderson, while at the same time said he rates Rader as "the best third baseman in all baseball."

Asked if the Reds plan to trade Perez, Anderson said, "I wouldn't say they wouldn't if something good came along."

But at this point I would say no."

Anderson said he observed ailing pitcher Gary Nolan pitch in the Florida instructional league and Nolan looked good "but he's going to have to get his weight down."

Nolan, who has not pitched hardly at all in the past three seasons, is making an attempted comeback after undergoing surgery a second time.

Anderson was asked why the Reds traded Roger Nelson, another sore-armed pitcher, to the Chicago White Sox.

"It's like a disease," said Anderson, recalling Nelson had continued arm trouble since he was obtained from Kansas City in 1973.

"I would rather have people around who are healthy. Having people around with sore arms is like a disease. It seems like it spreads and everybody is always worried."

Returning to the third base situation, Anderson said if the Reds are unable to trade for "a first rate third baseman we'll have to do like Oakland did with second base."

"We have the people to staff it for defensive purposes then hit for them in critical situations," he said.

The "people" included Darrel Chaney, John Vukovich and Ray Knight.

Heavyweight title fight takes place tonight

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — Muhammad Ali continued his taunting tirades and George Foreman remained somber as a monk as the two whiled away the hours leading to their pre-dawn battle Wednesday for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

It was a scene that staggered the imagination.

Bongo drums beat an unnerving tattoo on the sensitive inner ear. Strident African music — with its heavy jumpy and jivy beat — poured out from the buses and shops. Native dancers, part of a carnival, sashayed with their bumps and grinds from the back end of trucks parading the boulevards.

Tension began building to an electric pitch in this humid, sultry capital where two black Americans have come to pay homage to their ancestors and battle 15 rounds or less for the ring's richest prize.

Both Foreman, the titleholder, and Ali, a former champion who had the crown taken from him outside the ring because of his failure to enter the military, have made much of their odyssey to the land of their forefathers but don't shrug off other motivations.

Each is guaranteed a $5 million purse — richest of all time. It is money in the bank. And neither has to be overly concerned whether the strange conglomeration of producers and backers reaches the aim of $20 million to $30 million gross.

The fighters themselves have been overshadowed somewhat by the fanfare and wild trappings surrounding the event but as time for the opening bell approached — 4 a.m. local time, 10 p.m., EST, Tuesday — Foreman held firm as the favorite despite escalating Ali sentiment.

The latest odds quoted from Las Vegas are 14-5. More conservative London bookies give the champion the edge 11-5. The international press corps, which has had the two boxers under close scrutiny for a week, has swung to Ali by a small majority. Ali has been very impressive in workouts — physically, mentally and vocally. Veteran Ali watchers contend that they have never seen him fitter or sharper. At 216½ pounds, he looks every inch the skilled meticulous assassin who twice stopped the awesome Sonny Liston in 1964 and 1965.

Lions, Tigers fight to 6-6 tie

Washington Court House and Circleville fought to a 6-6 tie in a reserve contest, Saturday. The Lions came up with their score in the second frame, while the Tigers scored in the final frame.

Greg Marti's 35-yard pass to Doug Maddux accounted for the Lions' touchdown. The touchdown had been set up by Tom Dean, who picked up a Circleville fumble and ran it back to the 35-yard line of the Tigers.

Circleville's score came on a 35-yard run by Frank Merrill.

The Tigers threatened to tally the winning touchdown late in the period, but Dee Foster intercepted a pass to kill the drive.

Washington wound up with 92 yards total offense. Marti connected on three of six passes for 55 yards.

New York Islanders smash Seals, 10-1

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — There are skeptics who still doubt that the New York Islanders "are for real" this National Hockey League season, despite six victories and a tie in eight games — a record surpassed only by the Los Angeles Kings, who have played two more games.

Those doubters look beyond Monday night's 10-1 rout of the California Golden Seals to a five-games-in-eight-nights stretch which starts Wednesday night and will have the third-year New Yorkers playing against the New York Rangers, the Philadelphia Flyers twice, the Boston Bruins and the Atlanta Flames starting Wednesday night.

Lions lose volleyball contests

Washington's varsity and reserve volleyball teams concluded their season with losses at Hillsboro, Monday evening.

The varsity lost their fourth consecutive match by scores of 15-11 and 15-6. Before the Lions began their skid, they were 5-2. Washington's varsity finished with a 5-6 mark for the year.

Teresa Pursell collected six points and Lynn Sagar had four points to lead the varsity. Mary Ann Rudduck topped the squad with 10 set-ups.

With their third consecutive loss, the reserves finished their season with a 5-5 record. The reserve team lost the first match 15-9, won the second 15-6 and dropped the tie-breaker 15-7.

High scorer for the reserves was Becky Wheat with 15 points. Joyce Warner had 12 set-ups and Wheat collected 11.

OSU maintains first place grasp

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A winning attitude has helped the Temple Owls topple its first six foes this year.

In recent years "we found more ways to lose football games than win them," Temple Coach Wayne Hardin said. "But we have now learned how to win and have a winning attitude."

Following last Saturday's 21-17 victory over small-college power Delaware, Temple moved into 19th place in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Hardin cited the Delaware game as the difference between this season's Owls and the past. Delaware took a 17-14 lead in the third quarter only to see the Owls win 21-17 on a 33-yard scoring pass from senior quarterback Steve Joachim to Jeff Stempel.

"A few years ago we might have folded when Delaware went ahead on us," Hardin said. "But the kids hung tough and made the big plays when they had to."

The nation's Top Ten teams maintained their positions in the AP poll, with runner-up Oklahoma chipping away slightly at the No. 1-ranked Ohio State's comfortable lead.

Ohio State routed Northwestern 55-7 Saturday and received 45 first-place votes and 1,222 of a possible 1,260 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma crushed Kansas State 63-0 and earned 14 first-place votes and 1,123 points.

Third-ranked Michigan, a 49-0 victor over Minnesota, received two No. 1 votes, followed by fourth-place Alabama and fifth-ranked Auburn with one apiece.

Southern Cal, Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Penn State round out The AP's Top Ten.

Interviewed by telephone, Hardin said "I really haven't had time to think about being ranked. I'm worried about next week's game with Cincinnati."

Hardin says he looks forward to playing ranked teams in the future. The Owls have a 1975 date with Penn State. And Hardin knows that it's still early in the season. No Temple team has ever been ranked in a season's final poll. The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, season record and total points. Blazers, Southmen closing on titles

By The Associated Press

The Florida Blazers and Memphis Southmen are within one victory of clinching ties for World Football League divisional titles — but a couple of other teams will have plenty to say Wednesday night whether that big step is taken.

With three games remaining, the Blazers, 12-5, are two games ahead of the Charlotte Hornets in the East and the Southmen, 14-3, hold a two-game Central Division margin over the Birmingham Americans.

And it's the Americans who'll be trying to stay in the Central race by knocking off Florida. Memphis will have its hands full with the revived Hawaiians, 7-10 and still scratching to stay in second place in the West.

In Wednesday night's other games, Western champion Southern California, 12-5, is at Charlotte, 10-7, and Chicago, 7-10, visits Philadelphia, 7-10. On Thursday night, Shreveport hosts Portland in a battle of Western teams tied at 6-10-1.

Birmingham's got plenty of firepower in George Mira's passing to Dennis Homan and Alfred Jenkins — but the Americans, who won their first 10 games but have dropped five of their last seven, are running up against the WFL's top defense. The Blazers have allowed an average of less than two touchdowns per game.

Florida, which has won five of its last six games, knows how to score, too, behind Tommy Reamon, the league's leading rusher with 1,298 yards.

Memphis ran off 11 straight victories before losing to Portland last Thursday night. Now they face the Hawaiians, who equalled the WFL scoring record with their 60-17 swamping of Chicago a week ago.

The power of the Southmen is on the ground, with J.J. Jennings, John Harvey and Willie Spencer all among the top 10 rushers. The Hawaiians will counter with an aerial attack headed by quarterback Randy Johnson passing to WFL receiving leader Tim Deaney.

Opening lead - ten of spades. Let's say declarer is playing a hand where the outcome is uncertain because it depends on how or where the defenders' cards are located.

If declarer has a choice of several lines of play, he naturally assumes a distribution of the adverse cards that permits the contract to be made. To play otherwise would be a losing policy.

The same principle applies to the defending side. A defender is also obliged to make favorable assumptions, as it would be downright foolish to credit declarer with a hand that renders the contract impregnable.

Here is a case in point. East wins the spade lead with the ace and must decide on his best course of defense. He realizes that if South has the ace of clubs there is no chance whatever of stopping the contract, so he automatically assumes that West has it.

This in turn means there are three defensive tricks (three aces), but at the same time raises the question of how and where to obtain the setting trick. Obviously, there is no chance of West's winning a trump trick, so the only hope of beating the contract lies in winning a second diamond trick.

Since West must have the queen of diamonds for this hope to mature, East makes a second assumption on the hand by mentally assigning that card also to West. In line with this, East plays a low diamond at trick two.

Declarer is helpless against this well-reasoned attack. West's queen forces the king and, after South draws trumps and attacks clubs, West takes the ace and returns a diamond to put the contract down one. With any play but a low diamond at trick two, South makes the hand.

Nader urges gas curbs

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Pressure should be put on congressional leaders to defeat proposed legislation which would deregulate the price of natural gas, consumer advocate Ralph Nader says.

Nader told a University of Dayton audience Monday the bill, sponsored by Sen. James Buckley, C-R-N.Y., would increase the price of natural gas from 45 cents to $1.40 per thousand cubic feet within the next year.

Nader's group is organizing for a "concrete and focused fight" to filibuster the proposed bill, he said.

According to Nader, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has announced opposition to the measure, while Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, probably will support it.

Nader also criticized the Justice Department for its unwillingness to aggressively seek antitrust judgments against oil companies which also own natural gas deposits.

Armco reports dividend action

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. Monday announced a 40-cent per share quarterly dividend plus a 60 cent year-end dividend payable Dec. 9.

The board also declared a 52.5 cent dividend for cumulative convertible preferred stock, payable Dec. 31 for shareholders of record Nov. 29.

William Verity, Armco chairman, said the extra year-end dividend reflects a flexible dividend policy adopted in April, 1973.

In Focus

 Charlie Pensyl

I mean, if you are a photographer, there was just no other place to be but Chicago for the international convention of the Photographic Society of America earlier this month. From all over the world, the PSA people were there with the most fantastic and beautiful photographs I have ever seen. Monochromes and color prints of outstanding beauty; color slides that were out of this world; it all came together in Chicago.

From all over the world came the top people in the fields of fine photography. The first ones I ran into that I knew were Ruth and Bob Fridenstine, (judges at the Fayette County Fair the last few years) and we (Steve Jennings and I) had dinner with them the first evening of the convention. Later that same evening we ran into Sara and Richard Swisshelm, of Hillsboro.

Everyone I saw was having a great time and enjoying the photographic displays. Steve Jennings was especially happy since, in addition to the photographic displays, he found a place that served nice thick steaks. I'm with Steve, one has to keep up one's strength at a convention like that.

It was the Swisshelms that suggested to Steve and me that we might enjoy the Chicago PSA show. They have been coming to the CKFN classes this year and last year and they seem to get much fun from photography.

Next year PSA will convene in Dallas. I, for one, will be there.

Speaking of Your Health...

What is 'Referred Pain'?

What is a "referred pain"? How can doctors identify it? Miss E.E.B., Mich.

Dear Miss B.: The present knowledge of physiology and neurology has given doctors greater insight into the understanding of pain, its cause and its distribution.

Nerves run in very distinct courses throughout the body. With experience, doctors learn to interpret the meaning of pain, even if it is far removed from its source.

For example, kidney stones send shooting pains to the groin. Gall bladder disease refers pain to the back and the shoulders. Ulcers of the stomach may refer pain directly to the back.

Heart conditions may refer pain to the left shoulder, down the arm and to the fingertips.

The pain of shingles around the chest or waist may follow a band along the course of a nerve.

The pain of pleurisy may be referred to the area of the appendix and make diagnosis difficult.

The excruciating pain of trigeminal neuralgia, or "tic douloureux," may be identified by its characteristic referred pain in the head.

The art of diagnosis is a complex one and is based on experience and the interpretation of symptoms.

I had mumps at 14. Could this be responsible for impotence in a man of 38?

Mr. J.B.T., Del.

Dear Mr. T.: One of the complications of mumps may be orchitis, or an inflammation of one or both testicles.

This can cause the loss of healthy sperm production. Mumps, therefore, can be responsible for the loss of fertility rather than impotence.

The causes of impotence need careful study to find the exact reasons. Physical abnormalities and psychological stresses play an active role in the origin and the persistence of impotence.

I am often astonished by the number of men who write to me about intimate problems rather than bring them to the attention of their own doctors.

There is no shame in any physical or emotional problem.

Young motorcyclist injured in mishap

A young Washington C. H. man was injured in a motorcycle-car collision at the intersection of Forest Street and Columbus Avenue at 6:08 p.m. Monday, Washington C. H. police officers reported.

William A. Vince, 21, of 1321 Nelson Place, sustained a lacerated right hand and left ankle and a fractured left knee when struck by a car driven by Virginia Lee Merritt, 41, New Holland. Vince was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital by Gerstner-Kinzer ambulance service and admitted. Hospital officials report his condition as satisfactory.

THE MOTORCYCLE he was riding at the time of the mishap was severely damaged, according to police, while the Merritt auto was moderately damaged. Ms. Merritt was cited by police officers for failure to yield right of way.

Washington C. H. police reported two other accidents in the city, while the Fayette County Sheriff's Department investigated one mishap in the county.

A minor collision involving cars driven by Connie Dean, 19, Rt. 5, and Sandra R. Butler, 34, Jeffersonville, occurred at 10:21 p.m. Monday, in the Hidy Foods parking lot at 1151 Columbus Ave., police reported.

A rear-end collision involving a car driven by Ronda F. Overly, 19, of 678 Robinson Rd., and a motorcycle driven by James E. Everhart, 30, of 224 W. Market St., occurred at the intersection of E. Market Street and S. Main Street at 6:35 p.m. Monday.

Police reported minor damage to both vehicles involved, but no injury to either driver.

A COLLISION involving cars driven by Harold E. Goodman, 53, Portsmouth, and Maxine E. Cooper, 42, of 5191 Harmony Rd.-NW, occurred at the intersection of Milledgeville-Octa Road and U. S. 35, at 9:05 a.m. Monday, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported.

The mishap occurred when the car driven by Goodman attempted to pass the Cooper auto while Ms Cooper was engaging in a left turn.

Damage to both vehicles was moderate, but no one was cited or injured in the accident.

Ohio better off on unemployment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is in a considerably better economic position than the rest of the nation, the director of the state Bureau of Employment Services' Division of Research and Statistics said Monday.

William Papier said current data shows the overall unemployment rate in Ohio declined to a probable 1974 low of 4.4 in September, while the national rate moved up from 5.3 to 5.7 per cent.

"We've been more fortunate than some of the other states, such as Michigan, in that we produce a lot of compact automobiles and have a large tool industry which is going rather strong," Papier said.

Arrests

SHERIFF
MONDAY — Malcolm J. McDonald 60, South Solon, intoxication.

POLICE
MONDAY — William A. Linkenhoker, 50, Springfield, intoxication; Elizabeth Lynch, 48, of 432 Peabody St., private warrant for assault; a 16-year-old Ross County youth, juvenile delinquency - runaway.

PATROL
For speeding:
MONDAY — Carolyn A. Hill, 34, E. Cleveland; Peter M. Becker, 18, Mount Vernon; Smith Cannon, 52, Parma; Carl Lear, 38, Cleveland.

SUNDAY — John R. Graham, 39, Cincinnati.

SATURDAY — Melanie C. Laux, 20, Parma.

The average hourly wage earned by Ohio's factory production workers hit an all-time high of $5.24 in September, Papier said, but still failed to keep pace with living costs.

"Whereas average hourly earnings rose 8.9 per cent over the year, living costs jumped 12.1 per cent," he said.

Papier said that the prospect for Ohio's continued economic security is uncertain, however, because "the apparently deteriorating national pattern may negatively affect Ohio's normal spring upturn."

"In the assessments of the various economic experts, you'll see a pattern of concern over the national economy for the next several months," he said. "We are affected in so far as we are not an island unto ourselves."

Papier said that significant increases in employment were reported in major nonmanufacturing industries within the state.

"The retail trade added 26,000 workers and services jumped their level by nearly 33,000," he said.

The prospect was gloomier for such industries as motor vehicles and equipment fabricated metals, rubber and plastic products, Papier said. These industries suffered "notable" declines in employment during the past year, he added.

James C. Yocum, professor of business research at Ohio State University, also predicted Ohio's good fortune would not persist.

Yocum predicted that Ohio would be hit harder than the rest of the nation if the "recession" continues into 1975.

"Ohio is a large producer of consumer durable goods such as washers, dryers and smaller household appliances," Yocum said. "These items are related to residential construction activity and this has been very depressed," he said.

Yocum said the decline in housing starts means a decreased number of appliances being installed in finished homes.

"I think along with the nation we can expect a decline in employment and an increase in unemployment in 1975," he said.

Stolen signs recovered

Deputies from the Fayette County Sheriff's Department recovered some stolen property and the Washington C.H. Police Department reported a larceny, an incident of malicious destruction and a dog bite.

Four stolen road signs from the intersections of Prairie and Dill roads, Palmer and Jasper-Coil roads, Palmer and Bush roads, and Bloomingburg and New Holland roads were recovered by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department in a ditch on Staunton-Jasper Road, just north of Snowhill Road.

The recovery was made October 25 and deputies are seeking the thief.

A new battery was stolen from a 74 model car parked at Ron Farmer's Auto Supermarket, 330 S. Main St., sometime over the weekend, Washington C.H. police reported. Value of the battery was estimated at $30 and an investigation is in progress.

An auto owned by Donald Gardner, which was parked in front of his 707 N. North St. residence, had its distributor cap and clips broken and a spark plug wire stolen, sometime between Saturday and Monday, police reported.

Kathy Spires, 12, of 707 Eastern Ave., was bitten by a dog while delivering a newspaper at 323 Gregg St., at 5:15 p.m. Monday.

Police reported the girl was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital, treated and released.

Cigarette prices hiked

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale price hikes of 70 cents per 1,000 cigarettes announced by two major tobacco firms could have some smokers paying two cents more per pack.

On Monday the Lorillard Division of Loew's Corp. said its increase will be implemented Nov. 4, and the Philip Morris, U.S.A. firm said its price boost will begin Oct. 31.

Two fires start in same manner

A fire reported by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and a fire reported by the Washington C.H. Fire Department, started the same manner, an hour apart.

The blazes were precipitated when hot truck exhaust pipes contacted dry corn stalks in a field owned by Estle Davis on Moon-Evans Road at 3:34 p.m. Monday and in a field belonging to Lester Jordan, 2099 U.S. 35-NW, at 2:44 p.m. Monday.

The Jeffersonville Township Fire Department responded to the fire on the Evans property and reported slight damage, while Washington C.H. firemen, who were on the scene at the Jordan residence, reported extinguishing the blaze with water and fire brooms. They stopped the fire before it entered a wooded area, by discing part of a soybean field owned by David Carr.

Washington C.H. Firemen E.J. Helt injured his back while fighting the Jordan fire, but was not treated.

Three other fires were reported by the Washington C.H. Fire Department today.

At 8:52 a.m. Tuesday, firemen responded to a tree fire at the Fred

Burr residence on Mount Olive Road. Burr had been burning unwanted materials after cleaning up a wooded area and his small fire ignited a big ash tree. Firemen were summoned when Burr became fearful the tree would fall across Mount Olive Road.

High pressure hoses were used to force water into the tree, part of which was hollow and dead.

A leaf pile at the Mrs. William Wead

residence at 717 W. Elm St., was set afire at 7:35 p.m. Monday, for the third time, firemen reported. They doused the pile with water and are presently conducting an investigation.

A corn field behind 702 Gibbs Avenue, owned by Producers Livestock Association was set on fire by children playing with matches. This fire was also subdued with water by Washington C.H. firemen.

An editorial

Voters in Ohio's 77th District will elect a new state representative when they go to the polls next Tuesday. The Record-Herald believes that Laurence A. (Bucky) Dumford can best fill that responsible office.

Dumford is dedicated, concerned, informed and articulate and we feel there is no question that he is the man best suited to represent the 103,000 residents in the 77th District of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Experience is the dominating factor in this year's race and the former three-term Fayette County commissioner who also worked with the Ohio legislature in formulating proposals to strengthen local government is exceptionally qualified for a role of leadership in public office.

The 45-year-old Dumford has a firm grasp of the issues which concern most residents in Fayette, Clinton, Madison and Highland counties and he has taken forthright and well-reasoned positions on public school financing, election reform, law enforcement and tax revision just to mention a few.

We believe that Dumford's election is commended not only by what he knows through his years of experience and interest in local government, but also—and more particularly—by what he is. What he is, of course, is a strong candidate whose motivation for seeking office is what he can give rather than what he can get.

And that belief is supported by the fact that he will establish an office here for the purpose of keeping in constant contact with 77th District residents.

The Record-Herald feels Dumford is the best choice and strongly urges his election to the 77th District seat.

Nixon undergoes leg operation

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — former President Richard M. Nixon's surgeon said today that "Mr. Nixon is doing well" following an operation to stop a blood clot in his left leg from traveling any further toward his heart or lungs.

Dr. Eldon Hickman, who performed the hour-long operation, said Nixon's condition was "stable." He said Nixon returned to his room on the top of Memorial Hospital Medical Center of Long Beach for recovery.

Nixon's personal physician had said the operation was required because the clots in Nixon's leg posed a threat to his life.

"With the threat the clot could become a pulmonary embolus, we placed a mild clip... partially occluding but not completely occluding the vein," Hickman said. He said the clip was permanent.

He said the operation was uneventful and that the former president was "recovering in the normal manner."

The doctor said he had the usual postoperative effects of being sleepy and was confined to bed.

The operation began at 5:30 a.m. PST. None of Nixon's family was present at the hospital, but officials said his wife, Pat, was expected at the hospital later in the day.

Hickman said Nixon will probably be hospitalized for "another week," then the recovery would take four to six weeks at home.

Man charged on secret indictment apprehended

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies have arrested a Washington C.H. man who was indicted on secret bill last Friday. He had been charged with four theft-related felony counts.

Paul H. Hurlles, 47, of 629 E. Paint St., had been charged with two counts of burglary, grand theft and possession of burglary tools. He was arrested on two separate secret indictments, one on charges by Sheriff's deputies and the other on charges filed by Washington C.H. police.

He allegedly participated with Paul R. Spence, 36, of Columbus, in a burglary and larceny from Associated Plumbers and Heaters, CCC Highway-W, the morning of Sept. 14. The burglary and possession of burglary tools charges stem from his alleged involvement in the breaking and entering at the Washington C.H. Elks Lodge, 222 N. Main St., at approximately 2 a.m. the same morning.

In all, four persons have been charged in the Elks lodge break-in. In addition to Spence and Hurlles, John R. Forsythe, 33, of 703 E. Paint St., and Stanley Bellar, of Columbus, have been charged.

Forsythe is charged with four different counts. He had been arrested earlier and released on $6,000 bond. Bellar charged with one count of breaking and entering has not yet been apprehended, according to local law-enforcement officials.

Hurlles, arrested Monday afternoon, is currently being held in the Fayette County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

He said he did not anticipate any further surgery.

Dr. John C. Lungren, Nixon's personal physician, said he had consulted with Nixon's wife, Pat, and daughters Julie and Tricia by telephone Monday night.

Lungren was an observer at the surgery.

Both Hickman and Lungren noted that Nixon will be prohibited from eating a regular diet initially and will be fed intravenously today.

Lungren, who had warned that bleeding might be a problem during surgery because of anticoagulation therapy, said there was no excessive bleeding during the operation.

Nixon was given no extra doses of Vitamin K to prevent excessive bleeding during the surgery. Doctors said he would continue to receive heparin, as he had before the operation, to prevent further clotting.

'Uncle Henry' keeps busy as resident house ghost

AMELIA, Ohio (AP) — Although they've shared many a drink, Mrs. Bob Berwanger and her Uncle Henry have never met.

And that's just the way Mrs. Berwanger would like to keep the relationship.

"It's one thing to have a ghost around the house that turns on lights, clomps around at all hours and steals your Pepsi Cola, but I think if I ever really saw Uncle Henry, he'd have to go."

Uncle Henry is the newest addition to the already large Berwanger clan which lives in an old two-story dwelling in this Cincinnati suburb.

He came with the house, but he's been a blessing in disguise because Mrs. Berwanger suspects he's one reason the rent is lower.

"Actually we didn't really know about Uncle Henry until one day one of the neighbors asked us how we got the light in one of the upstairs rooms to go on the same time every day for a year," Mrs. Berwanger says.

"I told them I didn't know because the electricity had been off for that entire time."

Days later, Uncle Henry introduced himself to Mrs. Berwanger by waking her up in the middle of the night.

'Big boy' OK'd break-in

Hunt fingers Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr. says a "rude awakening" brought on by release of the White House tapes persuaded him to stop lying about Watergate.

Hunt testified Monday at the Watergate cover-up trial that he lied more than a dozen times before grand juries in the spring of 1973, even though he could no longer have been prosecuted for his part in the Watergate break-in or subsequent attempts to cover it up.

Hunt, free on appeal from his guilty plea for the burglary, was to return to the witness stand today for the first cross-examination by defense lawyers who represent the five defendants — H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

As the sixth week of the trial opened Monday, the 56-year-old retired CIA agent said he read published transcripts of the presidential tapes last spring shortly after he was released from prison.

The tapes disclosed increasing discussions among former President Richard M. Nixon and aides about Hunt's continuing demands for money. Former White House counsel John W. Dean III told Nixon it was blackmail.

"I felt a sense of rude awakening and I realized that these men were not worthy of my continued or future loyalty," Hunt testified near the end of his first day on the stand.

By March 16, 1973, Hunt by his own testimony had received at least $165,000 for lawyers' fees and other expenses. However, by last spring the money had long since stopped.

Hunt cited another reason for telling the truth about Watergate. He said his four children "were not fully persuaded that the testimony I had given in prior public forums was in all respects factual and candid."

Hunt, a CIA agent for 21 years who now lives in Miami, was a major witness at the Senate Watergate hearings in the spring and summer of 1973.

He is testifying at the trial as a court witness, which allows Watergate prosecutors to ask questions that suggest the answers. Under that arrangement, agreed to by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, neither the prosecution or the defense vouches for Hunt's credibility.

Sirica on Monday suggested that when and if defense lawyers get Nixon on the stand, they might want him called as a court witness.

Nonetheless, most of the defense

lawyers complained repeatedly about the prosecution's unwillingness to stand behind Hunt's testimony.

Hunt was faced Monday by assistant special prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste, an aggressive, rapid-fire questioner, to whom Hunt lied during three separate grand jury appearances in 1973.

In a staccato series that built to an emotional pitch, Ben-Veniste established a pattern of lying, drawn from the grim-faced Hunt, whose voice trembled slightly.

Hunt acknowledged that even when he learned that another White House and Nixon re-election committee official had begun to appear before the grand jury, he still told some lies under oath.

He said that while he recanted some of the false grand jury testimony, he also lied before other public forums.

Hunt said that included his book, "Undercover Memoirs of a Secret American Agent," written last spring.

JOHN C. SAWHILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford announced today a major shake-up in the federal energy hierarchy, removing John Sawhill as administrator and replacing him with former Asst. Commerce Secretary Andrew E. Gibson.

Ford made the disclosure during an impromptu White House press conference. He also announced that former Air Force secretary and NASA official Robert Seamans would become head of the new Energy Research and Development Agency, and that former astronaut Bill Anders would head the new Nuclear Regulatory Agency.

Dixy Lee Ray, now head of the Atomic Energy Commission will become assistant secretary of State for international environmental and scientific matters, Ford said as the new appointees flanked him at the podium.

The President made clear that Sawhill's resignation was desired by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, whom he named three weeks ago to coordinate the federal government's energy policies.

The President said there were "no

major policy differences" with Sawhill, although there were perhaps "differences in approach and technique."

He said he decided that Morton "ought to have a right with my approval" to make changes in the ranks of federal energy officials, and that Sawhill "will be offered a first-class assignment" elsewhere in his administration.

Sawhill's resignation followed persistent rumors that some members of the Ford administration were trying to oust him, partly because of his outspoken urging of strong energy conservation measures. These included an additional 10-cent per gallon tax on gasoline.

The official said Sawhill had met with President Ford last Friday, but Sawhill himself said Monday that he had no "serious discussions" about resigning and no intention to resign.

Sawhill said Monday that he would stick to his position even if it cost his job.

Fayette Progressive School makes exception for pets

By SANDY FOSSON
Record-Herald Staff Writer

It has become a general rule that pets are not allowed inside school premises but the Fayette Progressive School made an exception Tuesday after students adopted a large, fluffy mongrel of unknown origin.

The multi-colored (bright orange and green checkered, in fact), "overstuffed" pet wandered into the school's auditorium with local members of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

What the students did not know was that the unusual pup could also talk. The stuffed animal, equipped with speakers and telephone wiring for communication, was donated by the club as another community service by the large, worldwide voluntary association of industrial employees.

The talking dog has been proven to be a considerable help to retarded and deaf children in speech therapy, said Mrs. Mary Lou Ralston, spokesman for the group.

THE TELEPHONE Pioneers of America is an independent organization of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., which operates on its own time and funds, but is supported by the company. The club is composed of employees who have served 21 or more years in the telephone industry throughout the United States and Canada.

Established in 1911 with 700 members, the organization includes over 300,000 members

14 persons attend session

Variety of topics discussed in last special Council meet

A variety of topics were aired during the last of a series of special Washington C.H. City Council meetings Monday night at Cherry Hill Elementary School.

A total of 14 persons attended the fourth and final special meeting designed by City Council members to discuss the proposed 1.25 per cent income tax issue and other matters regarding city government operations. The 14 persons at Monday night's meeting doubled the total combined attendance at the three previous sessions. Only seven persons had attended previous meetings at Eastside, Belle-Aire and Rose Avenue elementary schools.

THE FIVE City Council members present at the meeting fielded an assortment of questions for over one and a half hours from area residents on a variety of topics.

Perhaps the most frequently discussed subject was the income tax proposal which will be decided by Washington C.H. voters at next Tuesday's general election.

An interesting point was mentioned by City Manager Dan Wolford when he explained to the audience that Toledo was the first Ohio city to impose an income tax in 1946 and now 363 Ohio cities are operating with income taxes of one per cent or more. He said Washington C.H. is one of only 23 Ohio cities without an income tax.

The lingering question of the possibility of Council imposing a mandatory city income tax if the 1.25 per cent levy is defeated at the polls next Tuesday was discussed briefly. "Let's be perfectly honest," said Council member Mrs. Bertha McCullough, "we'll have to look for additional income."

Council would be permitted to impose a mandatory city income tax of one per cent or less, although opinions differ on alternatives should the issue be turned down by city voters.

The importance of the income tax approval was stressed by City Council members when they pointed out that the city is relying heavily on federal revenue sharing funds, which represent approximately eight per cent of the total city budget and nearly 25 per cent of the general fund.

About $90,000 of the revenue sharing funds are being used for the operation of the Washington C.H. Fire Department. The fire department operates on a budget of $160,000 per year. The department has 14 full-time men, one under its authorized strength.

Mrs. Charles Shaper, 4 Willis Court, and Glenn Whittington, 917 Clinton Ave., expressed a general dissatisfaction over traffic conditions in the area of Cherry Hill Elementary School.

MRS. SHAPER requested that Council install a safety device at a crosswalk on Van Deman Street behind Rose Avenue Elementary School. The suggestion will be investigated by Council's safety committee and considered at the next regular Council meeting. Whittington complained about speeding vehicles on Clinton Avenue posing a potential hazard to school children. He suggested that a flashing light be installed to reduce speeding in the area.

Chester Hamulak, 1028 Center St., attended the meeting representing the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union. The church is hoping to install an improved and enlarged bulletin board on its property and Hamulak inquired about the proper steps which should be taken since the sign became a controversial issue when considered several months ago.

Wolford said the church should submit a request to the City Office Building for permission to erect the bulletin board. The city manager indicated that approval from the City Zoning Board of Appeals would probably be required. Hamulak said neighborhood residents have expressed no objections to the sign installation.

Ford signs interlock bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signed a bill eliminating the federal requirement for a mandatory seat belt interlock system in cars, but says he still wants motorists to buckle up.

The unpopular interlock system had required motorists to buckle their seat belts before starting their cars. Although he signed the bill repealing the requirement, he said, "I give my strongest recommendation that all Americans follow the sound advice which tells us to buckle up for safety."

He also urged motorists Monday to observe the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit.

Perk gets Ford backing

By The Associated Press

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk's campaign organization planned to start using radio commercials featuring President Ford today in an effort to boost his uphill battle for the U.S. Senate.

James Foster, Perk's communications director, said the Republican nominee had received a 30-second tape recording from the White House in which Ford urges voters to support Perk over Democratic candidate John Glenn.

The commercial may be carried on 60 stations around the state during the final week of the campaign, Foster said. Cost was estimated at from $7,500 to $10,000, and Foster said part of the money has been raised.

In the commercial, Ford says: "As President of the United States, I have pledged to do the very best for our country. In solving the problems facing us, such as inflation, I need the help of able, dedicated members of the U.S. Senate whose advice and counsel I can rely on. I hope you will send a leader to the U.S. Senate by electing Ralph J. Perk."

In other political activity, Democratic Gov. John Gilligan said Monday published reports of "slush bucket politics" by his GOP challenger, James Rhodes, have become the overriding issue in the gubernatorial race. Gilligan told a Newark gathering reports the former governor "tapped his political campaign funds" in the 1950s to buy a home and new car leave Rhodes with "no alternative now but to stand up and let the people know what's going on."

Gilligan referred to a copyrighted article in Sunday's Akron Beacon Journal which also said Rhodes used political contributions to help pay his federal income taxes.

"Well-meaning people wanted to help Rhodes get elected (by contributing to his campaign), but not to help him buy a new car or build a new home," the governor said.

Rhodes has not commented on the charges.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported today that primary campaign finance reports for Rhodes for the years 1956 and 1960 were missing from the secretary of state's files in Columbus.

However, James Marsh, assistant secretary of state, said the office is required to keep reports only for six years.

KSU trial resumes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The trial of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings resumes today after a four-day recess, with opening statements scheduled.

The trial was recessed by U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti Thursday after a jury of eight men and four women and six alternate jurors were seated following four days of examining about 60 prospects.

He said today would be taken up with opening arguments by government and defense attorneys and that the jury would visit the Kent State campus Wednesday.

Presentation of evidence probably will begin Thursday, the judge said. On their visit to the campus the jurors will see where four students were killed and nine others wounded by National Guard troops on May 4, 1970.

The shooting incident erupted during a confrontation of the guardsmen and rock-throwing antiwar demonstrators. It ended four days of student protests of U.S. military involvement in Cambodia.

Battisti told the jurors before the Thursday recess that what they see on the campus will not be evidence in the trial. He said the case must be decided on the evidence presented in the courtroom and his instructions on the law applicable to the case.

A federal grand jury indicted the defendants under civil rights statutes last March 29 after spending nearly three months investigating the shootings.

The ex-guardsmen are charged with violating the rights of and assaulting and intimidating the students killed or wounded.

On trial are James D. McGee, 28, and Lawrence A. Shafer, 28, both of Ravenna; Ralph W. Zoller, 27, Mantua; Barry W. Morris, 30, Kent; Leon H. Smith, 27, Beach City; Mathew J. McManus, 28, West Salem; William E. Perkins, 28, Canton, and James E. Pierce, 30, Amelia Island, Fla.

Danny Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lendil Manning of 803 Broadway, is a surgical patient in Children's Hospital, Columbus. He is in Room A-330.

The missing records are the reports filed by the James A. Rhodes for Auditor Committee, Rhodes' main fund-raising group while he was state auditor from 1952 to 1963.

At that time, Marsh said, the office kept one file copy which was made available to the news media and state officials. Now the office keeps a master copy and has copies available for public inspection.

Meanwhile, Rhodes' campaign headquarters announced a "Democrats for Rhodes Committee" had been formed in the Cleveland area. It quoted Mayor Angelo Wido of Brook Park as saying he was joined by a number of other Cuyahoga County Democratic leaders in the movement.

Rhodes campaigned in Cleveland Monday, where he pledged no new taxes, adjustment of state spending priorities to help schools and income tax reforms.

Today he was to begin a four-day, 25-city campaign swing, starting at Middletown.

Stock market crash anniversary noted

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street today marks its gloomiest anniversary, 45 years after the stock market began its dizzy fall in history on Oct. 28-29, 1929.

But even with numerous current troubles, including inflation, tight money and a slumping economy, traders can take heart that the bear market of 1974 and the great crash of 1929 are as different as night and day, many analysts agree.

For one thing, speculators in the '20s had free rein, untouched by any sort of governmental regulation. Since 1933, the Federal Reserve and the Securities and Exchange Commission have acted to keep the speculator in bounds, and usually have protected traders from outright market fraud.

The market also enjoys a degree of stability now compared with 1929 just

Thomas Ferguson, Democratic candidate to succeed his father Joseph Ferguson as state auditor, disputed claims that the office has ignored irregularities by the Ohio Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Ferguson said one conviction already has been made as a result of an audit of the bureau in 1973 and another conviction is being pursued and funds are being returned.

Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, campaigning for GOP auditor candidate Roger Tracy Jr., said in Cincinnati Monday there were "examples of misfeasance, if not malfeasance, by the state auditor's office for not cleaning up the situation."

He said the auditor ignored the situation despite the fact that there were reports in 1972 of "alleged kickbacks and other irregularities."

Democrat Tony Hall, seeking to oust longtime Republican Secretary of State Ted Brown, proposed Monday to adopt a ballot absentee ballot to help sightless Ohioans vote.

Stock prices up sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced sharply in accelerated trading today. Investors apparently were encouraged by the market's recent resilience in the face of a steady stream of bad economic news.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 12.75 at 646.59, and gainers led losers by better than 3 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the stage was set for the rally Monday, when the Dow recouped most of a large early loss despite a series of gloomy developments relating to the auto industry.

Armstrong Cork was the most active NYSE issue, up 1/4 at 15 1/4. A 112,000-share block traded at 15 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .85 to 68.27. The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks climbed .73 to 37.77.

Houston Oil & Minerals topped the Amex most-active list, unchanged at 27 1/4.

Arab summit meet recognizes Arafat

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Arab summit conference has recognized Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization as the leadership of a future independent Palestinian state to be established after the West Bank of the Jordan River is liberated from Israel.

But the Arab leaders are leaving Egypt, Syria and Jordan a free hand in peace negotiations with Israel.

The endorsement of the Palestine guerrilla movement appeared to doom resumption of the Geneva Middle East peace conference soon since Israel refuses to deal with the PLO. Thus, the way appeared open for the individual, bilateral negotiations advocated by President Ford called 'sweet'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Gerald R. Ford had some problem adjusting after being elevated from the House of Representatives. U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., a long-time friend of the President, had one too.

"We go back a long time calling each other Jerry and Bob," Taft recalled Monday. "The first time we met after Gerald Ford became president, I kept starting to say 'Jerry...' and then would catch myself and say, 'I mean Mr. President.'"

"I was embarrassed until some waitress called the President 'sweet' three times.

"Then I relaxed and settled down to addressing him as 'you.'"

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt.

After three days of intensive discussions, the kings and presidents of the Arab nations agreed on a formula Monday that papered over the rival claims of the PLO and Jordan to control of the West Bank territory, which Jordan captured in the 1948 Palestine War and Israel took in the 1967 war.

A spokesman said the leaders unanimously approved a resolution "reaffirming the rights of the Palestinian people to set up an independent national authority, under the leadership of the PLO as the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people on any Palestinian land that is liberated."

"Arab countries must support this authority when it is established in all fields and at all levels," the resolution added.

King Hussein of Jordan and Arafat exchanged expressions of mutual support, the spokesman added. However, conference sources said the king expressed explicit "reservations" to the resolution. They explained that this would allow him to negotiate with Israel without being identified with the PLO.

The spokesman said the summit called on Egypt, Syria, Jordan and the PLO to organize relations among themselves so they can implement the summit decision. The other sources said this might produce agreement between the PLO and Jordan for Jordan to represent the Palestinians in negotiations with Israel.

The sources also reported that Sadat made clear he intends to pursue further peace efforts in the interests of Egypt. He thus refused to be boxed in by any complications that might result from the endorsement of the PLO.

Chilean government eases repression

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chile's military dictatorship has eased some of its repressive domestic policies, but there is no sign democracy will return soon, U.S. intelligence sources say.

When the generals overthrew the elected government of Marxist President Salvador Allende 13 months ago, they moved hard against anyone even remotely suspected of opposing the new regime, the sources said.

But the new government has eased its policies in the last six or seven months, the U.S. analysts said.

Two explanations are given for the shift.

First, the regime has increasing confidence in its own strength internally, primarily because an opposition has not formed. Second, the U.S. Congress has applied pressure with threats to cut off arms aid.

Chile's army is equipped almost entirely with U.S. weapons, and there are no other governments willing or able to become a major arms supplier to the junta.

The generals also realize they don't have many friends in the world and they need good relations with the United States, according to the American sources.

Still, this accommodating attitude has definite limits, their assessment holds.

The junta resents the congressional attitude, and U.S. experts are convinced such pressure won't work in the long run.

The generals are not about to become lackeys of Washington or be dictated to, is the way one analyst put it.

Even if all arms aid were ended, he said, the generals have enough equipment to handle any domestic problems. Their main problem would come if war broke out with traditional enemy Peru.

Chile would be hard put in such a fight, the sources said, but right now a Chile-Peru war is considered unlikely.

Viewed in this light, the U.S. experts say the best American policy is to keep Chile aware of criticism but continue arms supplies.

In any event, they add, the military regime appears to have little opposition in Chile and no return to democratic processes is expected for five or even 10 years.

Eljer plumbing plans shutdown

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The housing slump has forced the Eljer Plumbing Division of the Wallace-Murray Corp in Marysville to shut down production for November, the plant manager said Monday.

Art Charleton said the shutdown has forced the layoff of 67 hourly workers. Only four workers remain on the job to pack orders, he said.

"The shutdown is a result of the general slump in the housing market," Charleton said. "We have been getting very few orders and are caught with a large inventory."

The plant makes brass plumbing ware.

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati black activist James Hardy has begun serving the remaining 42 days of a 50-day jail sentence on a disorderly conduct sentence he received last spring.

The sentence resulted from a demonstration at a Hamilton School Board meeting last year.

Hardy is also awaiting sentence in Cincinnati after being convicted of sending a threatening letter to Cincinnati Police Chief Carl Goodin.

Fuel allocation warning

Trial balloon or not, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon's warning that last winter's nationwide fuel allocation program may be repeated has an ominous ring about it. In effect Simon is saying that unless American consumers make a concerted effort to save fuel the government will again step in to regulate consumption and thus avert drastic shortages.

The prospect is not one that many will welcome. For what Simon has in mind is a resumption of the program that was in effect during last year's

Arab oil embargo. As everyone keenly remembers, this did not entail simply cutting back industry fuel supplies; the impact was felt by millions of motorists who found themselves waiting in line at service stations to get gas for their cars, and by many who found it hard to get enough home heating oil.

The administration's goal, announced recently by President Ford, is to save a million barrels of oil a day. This would reduce daily imports from six to five million barrels.

Such a substantial reduction will not easily be achieved. To realize the goal, millions will have to take the matter seriously and cut their own energy consumption — not only by driving less and at more fuel-economical speeds, but by keeping home and office thermostats turned down, using less electricity for lights and appliances, and so on.

It is a cause in which we can all play a helpful part. The alternative suggested by Simon should stimulate a sustained conservation effort.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . By Marquis Childs

The wrong choice

WASHINGTON — Damned if you do and damned if you don't. That is the wry conclusion of President Ford as he stumps across the country trying to pull Republican-congressional candidates out of the slough of despond.

He is being roundly scolded for playing the partisan game and thereby further dividing an already fractured nation. Instead he should be taking the high road to unity to pull people together for the common goal of fighting inflation. By denouncing the Democrats as big spenders in-state after state, he is betraying that goal.

BUT IT takes practically no imagination to hear the chorus of complaint that would arise if he had followed the other course and had stayed in the White House with the image of a national leader. Hard-pressed Republicans would have denounced him, as they did Richard Nixon, for being indifferent not only to their fate, but to the future of the party.

Whether he wrestled with the choice or whether he is just doing what comes naturally is of no moment, since the die is cast. He has tied his fortunes to GOP candidates, many of whom are almost certain to go down to defeat. In an election campaign marked by resounding apathy, even the President of the United States has failed to draw sizable and enthusiastic crowds.

In my opinion, the President made the wrong choice. I say this while realizing how difficult it would have been for him to say no to the appeals of one beleaguered candidate after another. The error of his choice has been compounded by his use of the threat that greatly enlarged Democratic majorities in Congress would jeopardize the Administration's foreign policy initiatives.

The blame on this score is broad enough to cover both parties. An example is the foreign aid mess. Conservative Republicans have consistently voted against aid.

With aid snarled over the Turkish stand on Cyprus, the hope that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger might employ foreign-aid grants to implement a Middle East peace is deferred if not canceled. During his shuttle diplomacy earlier this year, Kissinger had encouraged Egypt to believe in a $250-million grant which would be largely used to restore the Suez Canal and the ruined cities along the canal.

Likewise, the blame for inflation should be shared by both parties. Lyndon Johnson's escalation of the Vietnam war was one of the principal causes, with no tax increase to make up at least part of the deficit.

As a member of the House of Representatives, later minority leader, Gerald Ford voted for every Vietnam appropriation requested by President Johnson. With one comparatively minor exception, he voted for all the big arms bills before Congress during his 25 years there.

AT TIMES on the campaign trail Ford has made it sound as though the choice had been between sitting in his oval office in the White House and thinking or taking the Republican case to the country. That is an oversimplification that cannot be sustained in fact.

Sticking to the job of President, he might have helped to rescue funds for mass transit out of the clutches of the highway lobby. While his threat to veto the aid bill if it contained a ban on arms assistance to Turkey brought a compromise, a more direct and vigorous intervention might have moved aid out of the no-man's land where it languishes today.

The analogy with Harry Truman is false. Truman's give 'em hell campaign in 1948 came after he had been President for nearly four years. He was attacking a Republican majority in a congress that had divided on more or less clearcut party lines over social legislation. Inflation and recession were not factors.

Republicans in 1972 rang a change on George McGovern's far-out campaign promises with a plea that went "Come home, George McGovern." Maybe "Come Home, Gerald Ford" is right for a President crisscrossing the country and tying his future to a losing campaign.

Cincinnati keeps yellow fireplugs

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Fire Department, with backing from Safety Director Henry Sandman, will retain its yellow fireplugs.

The decision was a reply to Councilwoman Bobbie Sterne who suggested decorative painting to upgrade the city's appearance.

The fire department said it was hard pressed for funds to purchase paint for normal painting and that "fancy" painting might serve only to attract juvenile mischief.

Name Lancaster court judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Joseph R. Ralston, a former city attorney of Whitehall, has been appointed judge of the Lancaster Municipal Court by the governor.

Ralston fills a vacancy created by the death of Judge Charles Russell. He will serve until a successor is elected next year.

Ralston was the first director of the Legal Aid Society of Columbus and an assistant attorney general in Stark County.

No carbon copy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The son of U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe may be a chip off the old block, but he emphasizes he's no carbon copy.

Independent and candid like his dad, Charles Rockwell Saxbe has a mind of his own. Often he and his father are at opposite ends of the spectrum.

"We don't agree on everything," said the 27-year-old third-year law student and budding politician. "We've had our disagreements."

Young Saxbe is considered a shoo-in for the Ohio House seat his father once held. He was born Nov. 2, 1946, the day his father was elected to that seat.

The 75th District is considered safe territory for a Republican. It currently is held by Rep. Charles E. Fry, F-75 Springfield, who dropped out to run unsuccessfully for governor.

The young Saxbe, known as "Rocky," won out over five other GOP hopefuls, topping the second-place finisher by 229 votes.

"You might call me landslide Saxbe," he quipped.

His November opponent, Courtney A. Metzger, 54, a marketing manager for a Springfield plant, has an uphill fight. While battling the Saxbe name, Metzger faces another handicap. The Ohio AFL-CIO has endorsed Saxbe. It also has contributed to his campaign financially.

Rocky's father also was elected to the House while in law school. He became House speaker, then Ohio attorney general, a U.S. Senator before moving to the job he now holds.

The younger Saxbe said he doesn't have any ambitions along those lines at this point.

"I guess it's only natural I headed into politics," he said. "I've lived with it all my life."

"I think there is a common sense solution to most of our problems. It sometimes appears that's a commodity that isn't being used."

In 1970-1971, Saxbe was a Marine platoon commander in Vietnam. He admitted when he first went there he wasn't as interested in government service.

"I used to tell some of the guys, 'Hell, when we get out of here we'll hook up with a presidential candidate as an advance man. That's where the money and the chicks are.'"

His attitude changed while he was overseas. He began to wonder about the war. And, despite his father's pleas at the time, he began to dislike Nixon.

The combat lieutenant became page one news across the country when a Democratic U.S. senator from California read on the Senate floor a letter criticizing the war.

It didn't take newsmen long to learn that the author was the son of another senator. It was a letter home to Saxbe's senator father. About the same time the elder Saxbe began questioning the course Nixon had charted.

"When I got back I didn't see any presidential candidate I could work for," said Saxbe.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Newly-rich, he wants armor against goldiggers

DEAR ABBY: I have had lots of problems but I never had one like this, so here goes my first Dear Abby letter. I am a 57-year-old working man. I lived with my folks most of my life, but they are both dead now, so I'm living alone.

When I was younger I would ask girls for dates, but I got turned down, mostly because I wasn't very good-looking and didn't have much money. Being alone so much caused me to be kind of shy. I never enjoyed being alone, I just got used to it.

Well, I took a chance on the state lottery, and won $100,000. I had never won anything in my life. I still can't believe it, but it's true. Now I've got so many friends (mostly women), I almost have to hide.

I would like some female companionship, but don't want to end up married to some gold-digger. I don't have any experience at all when it comes to judging women, Abby, so how can I protect myself?

E.B. IN ATTLEBORO, MASS.

DEAR E.B.: Don't go in for anything as permanent as marriage until you know the woman well enough to trust her completely. Then see a lawyer about a pre-nuptial agreement. (He'll explain it to you.) You took a chance on a lottery and won, and marriage is a bit of a gamble, too, but the better you know the candidate, the smaller the risk.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and her husband (married only a few months) both go to college and live with me. He is a fine young man and I like him, but he has one serious fault. He will not get up in the morning for his classes.

It breaks my heart to see my daughter calling him, going back to their bedroom, shaking him, pleading with him, and wearing herself out trying to get him up in the morning.

He was dropped from his 8 o'clock class because he missed so many classes. Naturally, he lost that credit. Now he is sleeping through his nine o'clock classes!

I have wanted to tell her to simply pour ice water on him, but I've used remarkable restraint staying out of this daily hassle. Any suggestions?

MOM

DEAR MOM: He's your daughter's problem, not yours. If she were wise, she'd wake him once only, set the alarm to give him a five-minute grace period, then go about her business. If he knows he has to get up he will. And if he doesn't let him suffer the consequences.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many people realize the difference between the way HER mother is treated and the way HIS mother is treated?

So many young husbands are so busy with earning a living that they leave such matters entirely to their wives, and consequently on Mother's Day, HER mother will be honored, and when (and if) it's convenient, HIS mother will be honored.

Another thing. Let's have a Grandma's Day for HIS mother. With so many broken marriages these days, the paternal grandmother loses all contact with her grandchildren. It's always HER mother who gets to see the grandchildren, and do for them. HIS mother loses out and is soon forgotten.

My son is married and divorced. His wife has the children, and now it's almost as though I have no grandchildren. Maybe if you print this, it will be seen by mothers who don't realize the hurt some grannies suffer from divorce. Thank you.

MISSING MY GRANDCHILDREN

DEAR MISSING: When marriages break up, there is usually bitterness on the part of the wife. And just or not, she usually gets the kids. There are exceptions, but the ex-wife doesn't usually feel too kindly toward her ex-in-laws, and part of the punishment she feels "his family" has coming is depriving them of their grandchildren.

World Community Day to be observed Friday

World Community Day will be celebrated by Church Women United on Friday, Nov. 1, in First Presbyterian Church beginning with a noon luncheon, and followed by a meeting in the sanctuary at 1:15 p.m. The noon luncheon will be served in Persinger Hall, and prepared by the Presbyterian Women. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Mrs. Mark T. Dove will read the Scripture, and the Madrigal Choir from Washington Senior High School will present special music under the direction of Mr. Charles L. Shaffer. Mrs. John P. Case is the organizer.

Mrs. Gerald Wheat will speak concerning the theme. Mrs. C.L. Lewellen is chairman of World Community Day, and Mrs. Charles Hurr is Church Women United president.

The origin of World Community Day can be traced to the week of Pearl Harbor when the constituting convention of the United Council of Church Women met in Atlantic City. "As the nations were flying apart, the women were coming together," said Amy Welcher who became the first president of this interdenominational Council which was the forerunner of Church Women United. One of the first acts of this newly formed Council was to inaugurate a day of peace in 1942. The next year this observance became known as World Community Day and was concerned with the price of an enduring peace. Every year since then, World Community Day has been celebrated by Church Women United on the first Friday in November. Each year a specific issue is chosen to emphasize corporate action for justice and peace.

The theme for this year's World Community Day, "Discover the Aspiring Majority," leads into the subject matter of the United Nations International Women's Year which will be observed in 1975. As women, who are now a majority in the world, examine their values and goals, they will discover the aspirations that bind them together. In celebrating this Day women will be giving expression to the stated goals of the International Year which are those of striving for justice for women, and increasing their participation on all levels to bring the welfare of the world and the course of peace nearer to realization.

On World Community Day, Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox women will unite in worship services to manifest the hopes, concerns, and joy they share with women everywhere. Participation in a nationwide offering, which goes into a fund called Intercontinental Mission, will help Church Women United, through approved agencies, fulfill its goals of justice and peace. The following are some concrete examples of witness and service rendered through this Fund: continuing educational programs for women in Christian colleges overseas; underwriting a women's staff working on social and economic development in the islands of the Caribbean; delivery of vocational training and health services in Lebanon; community and water development projects in Kenya, Botswana, Ghana, Zambia, Zaire, Brazil and Costa Rica; rebuilding of the women's training center in Nigeria destroyed during the Biafran War; support of programs for international students in urban areas in the U.S.A. and continuing educational scholarships for overseas women; funding for a canning project to help American Indian women combat malnutrition through a food preservation program.

council president-elect. The engraved plaque commends Harsha for "his concern and understanding of the exceptional children and for the time and effort spent to achieve higher goals in education for them." The council, headquartered in Hillsboro, covers a five-county area in southwestern Ohio.

Break-even point for cattle $44

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cattle feeder who bought 600-pound steers and all his feed last month would have to get nearly $44 per hundredweight for the finished animals next March to break even, according to Agriculture Department experts.

Prices of choice steers at Omaha lately have been running about $39 per 100 pounds. Economists say those could rise to a range of $43 to $45 on the average during the first quarter of 1975.

Meanwhile, livestock analysts in the department's Economic Research Service have computed costs for producing a choice 1,050-pound steer in the Corn Belt, based on what expenses would have been in September.

A 600-pound feeder steer would have cost $182.94 last month, on the average. About 45 bushels of corn for feed rations was put at $148.05 to carry the animal through next March to reach its market weight.

Other expenses, including silage, protein supplement, hay, labor, veterinary services and transportation to market, would have added to the bill. The total expense: $458.66 per steer.

Thus, according to the figures, a producer would have had to get $38.18 per hundredweight for the finished steer just to cover the original cost of the feeder animal and its rations.

When all other expenses are included, the producer would have to get $43.69 per hundredweight next March to break even.

The price of feeder cattle has tumbled the past year, currently ranging close to $30 per hundredweight in some areas. A year ago they were bringing $65 per 100 pounds or more.

The analysis was included in a livestock and meat situation report for October. It showed feedlot cattle, if carried to full term on grain, have been losing between $6 and nearly $10 per hundredweight all year, roughly $60 to $100 per head.

But the report also noted the shift in cattle feeding practices and predicted that some feeding operations can make a little money, given the right breaks.

"Cattle feeders who have been buying older, heavier cattle this summer and feeding them for 60 to 90 days have realized a more favorable return than those on longer feeding programs," the report said.

But the report also noted the sharp decline in feedlot cattle and said the trend probably will continue "well into 1975" because of high feed costs in relation to market prices.

Cohen said during the weekend that he had learned through underworld sources that Miss Hearst had been hidden in the black community in Cleveland, Ohio, "up to 13 or 14 days ago," but that he didn't know where she is now.

Miss Hearst was abducted in Berkeley Feb. 4 by the SLA and later announced in a taped message she was joining the terrorist band. The FBI wants her and fellow SLA fugitives William and Emily Harris on a variety of federal charges. They have eluded capture since a May 17 shootout with authorities in Los Angeles in which six SLA members died.

No leads on Patty, family says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The lawyer for Patricia Hearst's parents said Monday the Hearsts have no leads "that seem worthy of consideration" in the search for their 20-year-old fugitive daughter.

James MacInnis said the Hearsts rejected former gangster Mickey Cohen's recent offer to help effect their daughter's return because they feared it might involve new violence and she would be harmed.

"There isn't anything right now that seems worthy of serious consideration," MacInnis said of the search for Miss Hearst and two fellow Symbionese Liberation Army fugitives. "But I am sure that other information will develop."

He said he relayed by telephone a week ago the decision not to accept Cohen's offer, which Miss Hearst's father, San Francisco Examiner President and Editor Randolph Hearst, said amounted to a plan to kidnap Miss Hearst.

Hearst and his wife, Catherine, "thought Mr. Cohen was sincere but they thought that persons unknown to them would be carrying out the plan and of course the results would be entirely speculative."

Food poisoning being probed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Health Department officials are awaiting tests to determine what was responsible for the food poisoning of 100 persons at a church dinner Sunday.

Charles Lenzer, department spokesman, said results of tests on food served at the Jerrill Baptist Church will not be known for several days.

Kissinger says U. S. policy on neutral nations changed

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says the United States government has abandoned its Cold War opposition to governments that take neither side in America's rivalry with the Soviet Union.

"The United States accepts nonalignment," Kissinger said Monday in a major address to the Indian Council of Foreign Affairs. "In fact, America sees a world of free, independent, sovereign states as being decidedly in its own national interest."

Kissinger acknowledged that Washington is partly in debt to the late Jawaharlal Nehru, India's first prime minister and one of the pioneer advocates of nonalignment, for "this new American view." He suggested it might have been adopted earlier.

He said that at least now, "support of national independence and of the diversity that goes with it has become a central theme of American foreign policy."

A U.S. official said this was the first high-level U.S. government declaration endorsing nonalignment.

Clearly pleased with his goodwill visit and his meetings Monday with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Foreign Minister Y.B. Chavan, Kissinger said in a dinner toast: "We talked to each other for the first time in a long time free of complexes."

He said when U.S. officials talk to Indians now, they do not seek "moral approbation ... We now realize that what ties us together is a common perception of the kind of world which leaves both of us secure and in which both can prosper."

In reply, Chavan said he thought Kissinger's visit "will prove to be an important step and marks a landmark in our relationship."

U.S. Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan told newsmen that President Ford had accepted "in principle" an invitation to visit India but a date has not been set.

Coal buying approved by board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Controlling Board has given an Ohio government agency blanket authority to purchase up to $5 million worth of coal to stockpile as protection against a possible miners strike.

The Department of Administrative Services asked for and received "blanket authorization to purchase coal, without competitive bidding, whenever it is available."

The action came two weeks before a Nov. 12 strike deadline set by the United Mine Workers in negotiations with coal companies.

The Ohio Emergency Energy Commission last Friday pledged to "continue and intensify efforts to build coal stockpiles to assure continuation of essential services throughout the state."

An administrative services spokesman conceded the $5 million price tag might leave the state open to "price gouging," but told the board that eastern power companies have been coming into the state to buy coal with "blank checks."

"It puts the state at a disadvantage," he said.

The board gave the Mental Health and Retardation Department authority to buy $99,000 worth of coal for the Orient State Institution, southwest of Columbus.

The request was almost withdrawn after the state was given blanket authorization to buy coal, but the board decided the $33 a ton price was a bargain.

Realtors hear farm loan talk

Howard Ford, of the Production Credit Association, was the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Fayette County Board of Realtors.

President Ann Polk presided over the noon luncheon meeting at the Terrace Lounge with C. W. (Bud) Mustine as program chairman.

Ford spoke to the 20 realtors and associates on his role in helping farmers with short-term loans. The maximum term for the farm loans is seven years, he said.

Ford explained that Production Credit Association obtains its money from the sale of FICB bonds and that the interest charged to the farmer is governed by the amount of interest to be paid when selling the bonds. These short-term loans are used to buy almost anything associated with farming, including second mortgage money to purchase a farm, he added.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 25 and will feature the election of officers.

Grocery gets liquor permit

The Ohio Department of Liquor Control has issued a liquor permit to Helfrich Super Market, Inc., 806 Delaware St. The permit allows the super market to sell beer and wine for carry-out purposes.

Neil Helfrich, owner-operator of the store, said that he has not yet stocked any alcoholic beverage as arrangements with distributors are incomplete. However, he expects to have both beer and wine in the near future.

Prayer breakfast attracts 75 teens

Some 75 teens and teachers attended the prayer breakfast at the South Side Church of Christ Tuesday morning.

"Life's Two Roads" was the topic of the meditation period led by the Rev. Charles J. Richmond. Christy Davis and Dee Dee Davis led the singing, accompanied by Linda Hollingsworth. Following the song service Karen Terry, senior at WSHS, sang, "I Believe".

After breakfast, Cindy Van Meter, senior at WSHS, gave a devotional on "Words." She emphasized the influence of our words and said, "They are powerful, and can create close friends, laughter and comfort."

Jon Creamer, teacher at WSHS, dismissed the group with prayer.

There were 13 freshmen; 21 sophomores; 16 juniors; 20 seniors, and six teachers in attendance. Faculty members present were Jon and Frank Creamer, Miss Donovan Stickley, Miss Linda Young, Miss Susie Bailey and Carmen Frogale.

The next prayer breakfast will be at 6:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Urge energy constitution

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Creation of a "national energy constitution" would be an ideal way to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday, the chairman of the B.F. Goodrich Co. said Monday.

Such a document, permitting interpretation for adaption to change, would make possible more effective, less costly planning for energy requirements, O. Pendleton Thomas told the Rubber Manufacturers Association's fourth environmental conference.

An energy-environmental blueprint would serve the nation "regardless which person or what political party has control of the executive and legislative branches of the federal government," Thomas said.

It would be an ideal way to mark the U.S. bicentennial, by "building for the future as our forefathers did nearly 200 years ago," he said.

"Satisfaction Always"

This Wise Old Philosophy [From 75 Years Ago] Has Made
K mart the World's Fastest Growing Discount Retailer Today!

Our First Kresge's in 1899 ...

It All Began in 1899 ...

The dreams of a farm boy, Sebastian S. Kresge, became a reality in 1899, when our first Kresge store opened in downtown Detroit and proclaimed "Nothing over 10¢." Although it first began with only nickles and dimes, our corporate philosophy has been always to give the customer genuine savings PLUS the assurance of being completely satisfied or having their money promptly refunded. This credo contributed to Kresge's early public acceptance and resulting growth in the fifties to the second largest variety chain in the United States.

A New Milestone in 1962 ...

Sixty-three years later, just 20 miles from the location of our first "five and dime" store, our first K mart discount department store opened in suburban Detroit and proclaimed "discount prices on first quality merchandise - no seconds or irregulars." Once again metropolitan Detroiters showed their confidence in the Kresge Company "Satisfaction Always" credo by shopping and saving like never before, the one fundamental difference being that K mart offered a wider range of merchandise for the family, home and car at big-discount prices.

And Still Growing in 1974 ...

This year is our 75th anniversary celebration. Overwhelming public acceptance has generated the growth of K mart to its position today as the world's fastest-growing discount retailer with over 750 stores by year-end serving millions of families in the United States and abroad. We're proud that "K mart is all the things a great store should be." Come in and find out for yourself that shopping and saving is real fun ... the K mart way.

THE DOOR IS OPEN — Dr. Robert L. Fierman has announced that his office, located at 312 E. Market St., will now be open four days per week. The doctor has decided to close his Columbus office and keep the door in Washington C.H. open more hours each day. He and his family will be residing here.

Podiatrist opens full-time practice in Washington C.H.

Dr. Robert L. Fierman, podiatrist, has begun a full-time practice in Washington C.H. He and his family have purchased a home and plan to make Washington C.H. their permanent residence.

Dr. Fierman and his former associate, Dr. Fred R. Knopf, first began to practice in Washington C.H. during May, 1973. They took over the office used for many years by Dr. William E. Lawyer. The office is located at 312 E. Market Street.

Dr. Knopf has since left to open his own practice in Mount Vernon, and Dr. Fierman has manned the office here alone for the past three months. In addition to the office in Washington C.H., Dr. Fierman has maintained another office in Reynoldsburg, a Columbus suburb.

However, he has now closed the Reynoldsburg office and will be available here four days each week. He will hold office hours on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. During the week, the office will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday hours will be 9 a.m. until noon.

A native of Cleveland and a 1967 graduate of Ohio State University, Dr. Fierman completed his medical studies at the Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine in Cleveland. He served his internship in Columbus before opening the office here.

Dr. Fierman said that he chose to settle in Washington C.H. because of the small-city atmosphere. Although the city itself has a limited patient potential, this is offset by the fact that he has patients from Sabina, Wilmington, London, Mount Sterling and other surrounding areas. He also expects Fayette County to grow in population in the future.

"This is a growing community, with a strong influx of industry, yet it has avoided the impersonal rat-race aura that pervades many other areas," he said.

He talked briefly on the podiatrist's role in medicine. "We are not foot-doctors," he said, "we are doctors who have elected to specialize in the treatment of foot ailments — there is a big difference." He noted that podiatrists must be able to recognize a wide range of medical problems because any one of them may have an effect on other parts of the body, including the feet.

A number of his patients are sent by other doctors. "No one should feel a doctor is professionally inadequate because he sends his patient to another doctor," he said. "The medical field is too vast for anyone to know every area in depth — that is why doctors specialize in a particular facet of medicine," he noted. He concluded by saying, "Referrals are a means of offering the patient the expertise of someone who is more familiar with the patient's particular problem."

He and his wife, Nancy, will be residing at 1252 Nelson Place. Their son, Adam, who is five, will be attending kindergarten classes at Belle-Aire Elementary School.

New auto electrical analysis set

TROY, Mich. (AP)—Smart, low-cost electrical systems that make driving easier and safer and quickly diagnose auto illnesses should mean billions of dollars per year in new business for the electronics industry, the vice chairman of TRW Inc. said Monday.

"Electronic technology has now advanced to the point where, fortunately, it can fulfill stringent requirements suddenly thrust on the automobile designer," said Dr. Simon Ramo of the Cleveland-based conglomerate.

Ramo's remarks were prepared for an address at the convention on auto electronics of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

"Meeting these needs—as well as new standards of safety, attaining improved driving ease in growing city traffic, lowering maintenance expense in an inflationary world and providing quick and reliable diagnosis of the car's condition—are tasks ideally suited to the new electronics capabilities," Ramo said.

He said devices and systems which can sense, transfer, process, store and use information now are 10 to 100 times cheaper, faster, more versatile, more rugged, smaller and less hungry for power than their predecessors.

"The automotive designer, as a result, can now justify an investment of hundreds of dollars per car in auto electronics," Ramo said.

Office created for insurance of state property

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Administrative services has created an office to prepare plans to insure the state's property, Joseph J. Sommer, department director, announced Monday.

Former director of insurance, risk and property management at Ohio State University, Henry Anderson, has been appointed chief of the new Office of Risk Management, Sommer said.

In the past Ohio has not insured its property, but the state faces the potential loss of millions of dollars from disasters such as tornadoes, floods and fire, Sommer said.

"We cannot escape some losses resulting from natural disasters... or some major fire damage, but it is also possible to have coverage to reduce the financial burden when some losses occur," Sommer said.

POSITION ON TAXATION

This is a complicated area of discussion and I cannot fully explain my position in this short advertisement, however, I would like to be on record concerning a few major points.

I. The present tax structure of Ohio will provide sufficient revenue to operate the state and provide additional funds for further tax revision and reduction in some needed areas. Therefore, I will vigorously oppose any increase in taxes going into the general fund of this state in the next two years.

II. We should continue to use state collected taxes to support schools and take the burden off of rural farm lands. The court ordered re-appraisal of these lands should not mean an automatic increase in taxes without voter approval. If funds become available, I would support a further roll back in real property taxes.

III. I will oppose any attempt by the Ohio Department Of Transportation to divert revenues collected from gasoline and license fees and presently used on rural roads and bridges, into mass transit systems in the metropolitan areas.

IV. I support and will introduce, if necessary, legislation to eliminate the personal property tax on inventories. This is a cost of business operation that should be removed. It should be done over a period of 5 years so as to allow for the replacement of lost revenue to school districts. Taxes are collected so as to provide a high level of necessary services with a minimum of waste and overlap.

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Sand had just finished a Chinese lunch when three ladies at a nearby table arose, walked over, gave him a card and asked him to autograph it. He was obviously pleased. So were the ladies.

One ventured a jest: "I didn't recognize you without your bass."

But a man at the next table thought Sand was Joe Namath.

So it goes these days for the 34-year-old star of CBS' "Friends and Lovers," the new Saturday night series in which he plays a bachelor who plays the big bass viol in the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The shaggy-haired, sad-faced actor, born in Los Angeles, was in Fun City to bow up some publicity for his show which, sandwiched between "All in the Family" and "Mary Tyler Moore," has few ratings worries.

But Sand seems a worrier by nature, the sort of guy who'd probably be happiest running a grief swap shop. At the interview, he was fretting because CBS hasn't said yet if it'd renew the show for 13 more weeks.

"All the earmarks are that it will be," he said. "But who knows? I would like it to be picked up because I'd like to use what I've learned so far to make the next 13 more solid."

Learn? There doesn't seem much more learning needed for someone who began studying acting at 11, left home at 18 for a year with Marcel Marceau's mime troupe in Paris, worked with Chicago's "Second City" gang and won Broadway's "Tony" award in 1970 for his work in "Story Theater."

Sand now has the floor: "Well, I was totally intimidated by television. It took me years to get comfortable on the stage and then this opportunity came. 'I'd done a couple of things, like one shot on the 'Mary Tyler Moore' show' — he played an auditor — 'and three Carol Burnett shows, but this show was really like being in a new school.'"

He said he felt his timing was off initially and, although the show's writers toiled mightily, "they were writing for an actor who can tell jokes. I can do situations, but I can't tell jokes."

"For a while, next to my name, they'd write 'joke' in the script. Because I'd go, 'I don't get it. What does this have to do with the story?'"

He says he's gotten over that, is now considerably more at ease, but hopes there'll be fewer one-liners and more of a story line in future shows — if, of course, CBS renews the thing.

Although much of the show is built around the fact the hero plays and lugs around a bass fiddle, Sand is the first to admit he'd have trouble squeezing a tune out of a kazoo.

He said he took lessons on the bass from Don Palma, formerly with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and now a free-lancer here.

"It was a funny relationship," he mused. "Because I'd go to his house to take lessons and I was a student with no talent."

"But he'd forget that I was just there to learn how to fake it. And he often wanted to scream at me. Thank God, he'd always snap out of it. We're pretty good friends now."

Welfare slashed by about third

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—The Butler County Welfare Department has cut welfare assistance by nearly a third after ceilings for all 88 Ohio counties were established by the Ohio Department of Public Welfare.

William E. Schaffner, director of the Butler County department, said his department has been limited to $248,000 or a little more $20,000 a month.

"We have been averaging over $30,000 a month for the first three months of this fiscal year," Schaffner said.

He said no emergency assistance will be paid for furniture and appliances, clothing, home repairs, housing or utility deposits.

Kroger notes earnings rise

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Kroger Co., a 20-state supermarket chain, reported nearly doubled earnings for the third quarter compared with the same period in 1973. Earnings were $13.1 million compared to $6.7 million the previous year. James P. Herring, Kroger president and chief executive officer, said higher sales volume and the company's efforts to control costs, particularly in store operation and distribution, produced the earnings improvement. Sales for the quarter ending Oct. 5 were $1.474 billion, an increase of 16.8 per cent or $212 million over 1973 third quarter sales of $1.262 billion. Kroger also announced an increase in 1974 expansion plans. The firm said it will build 110 new stores instead of 80 as earlier announced.

Few changes in ratings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Warren Harding, Wheelersburg and McDonald retained their leads today in the weekly Associated Press Ohio high school football poll.

A statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, in one of the most formful weeks of this season, placed only one new face in each of the top tens.

Fremont Ross, unbeaten and once tied in eight games, crashed the Class AAA elite, taking over the No. 10 position.

Findlay, eighth a week ago fell all the way to 20th after losing to Elyria 14-0. Wellington, 8-0-0, moved into the Class AA top ten, seizing the 10th spot. Shelby dropped from seventh to 13th, losing to Tiffin Columbian 21-14 to make room for Wellington.

In Class A, Lisbon Anderson advanced one spot to 10th, switching places with Montpelier, a 12-8 victim of Archbold last week.

Warren Harding piled up 246 points to keep the Class AAA lead. Canton McKinley, the big school leader earlier in the season, again was No. 2 with 222 points and Cincinnati Moeller, also 8-0-0, third with 173 points.

Wheelersburg had the closest fight on its hand. The Class AA leaders owned 196 points, only eight in front of runnerup Minerva. Both are 8-0-0. Akron St. Vincent—St. Mary, 7-1-0, was third with 162 points.

In Class A, leading McDonald earned 197 points, Runnerup Bluffton 180 and third-place Windham 177.

Upper Arlington retained the fourth spot in Class AAA with Warren Western Reserve moving into a fifth-place deadlock with Cincinnati Elder. Dover was seventh, New Philadelphia eighth and Youngstown Mooney ninth.

In Class AA, Toronto held on to fourth, followed by Dayton Jefferson, Norwalk, Cincinnati Wyoming,

Louisville Aquinas, Columbus Waterson and Wellington.

In Class A, Windham jumped a notch to No. 4 and Canal Winchester two spots to fifth. Covington kept the sixth spot. Midvale Indian Valley North leaped two positions to seventh, Newark Catholic kept eighth, Plain City Alder tumbled from third to ninth and Lisbon Anderson was No. 10.

Bradshaw, Harris pilot Steelers' win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Terry Bradshaw predicted it. He's back, so is Franco Harris and so is the Pittsburgh Steelers' running game.

"And it feels good, real good," Bradshaw said after he made his first quarterback start this year and Harris rushed for a career high of 141 yards in a 24-17 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in Monday night's nationally televised National Football League game.

On opening day, Bradshaw was on the bench behind Joe Gilliam, who led the NFL preseason passers by throwing almost twice as often as Bradshaw had in Pittsburgh's two previous playoff seasons.

"Joe's had the hot hand," Bradshaw said in September, "but the time will come when we have to establish a running threat. My style is ball control and I'll wait until this thing runs its course."

After Gilliam's 5-for-18 passing day in a narrow win last week over Cleveland, Coach Chuck Noll opted for Bradshaw, even though the Steelers were atop the AFC Central Division.

"It was pretty much a return to the bread and butter," Noll said after the Pittsburgh climbed to 5-1-1 and Atlanta fell to 2-5 under beleaguered Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We battled them. We fought as hard as we could," said Van Brocklin, target of a "Dump the Dutchman" campaign in Atlanta.

The Steelers pounded out a season high of 235 yards rushing against the Falcons, and stumpy Rocky Bleier added 78 yards to Harris' career high total.

"I get a kick out of making the running game go," said Bradshaw, who completed nine of 20 passes for 130 yards with two interceptions.

It was the first 100-yard game of the season for Harris, who had a career high of 28 carries, and he gained all but 29 of his ground yards in the second half. He also ran 29 yards with a swing pass from Bradshaw to set up the winning touchdown.

Harris, who had rushed for 206 yards previously this season, powered seven yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

Heavyweight title fight takes place tonight

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — Muhammad Ali continued his taunting tirades and George Foreman remained somber as a monk as the two whiled away the hours leading to their pre-dawn battle Wednesday for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

It was a scene that staggered the imagination.

Bongo drums beat an unnerving tattoo on the sensitive inner ear. Strident African music — with its heavy jumpy and jivy beat — poured out from the buses and shops. Native dancers, part of a carnival, sashayed with their bumps and grinds from the back end of trucks parading the boulevards.

Tension began building to an electric pitch in this humid, sultry capital where two black Americans have come to pay homage to their ancestors and battle 15 rounds or less for the ring's richest prize.

Both Foreman, the titleholder, and Ali, a former champion who had the crown taken from him outside the ring because of his failure to enter the military, have made much of their odyssey to the land of their forefathers but don't shrug off other motivations.

Each is guaranteed a $5 million purse — richest of all time. It is money in the bank. And neither has to be overly concerned whether the strange conglomeration of producers and backers reaches the aim of $20 million to $30 million gross.

The fighters themselves have been overshadowed somewhat by the fanfare and wild trappings surrounding the event but as time for the opening bell approached — 4 a.m. local time, 10

Anderson hints at Perez trade

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson doubted whether the Houston Astros would give up third baseman Doug Rader and indicated Reds first baseman Tony Perez might be dealt.

Anderson answered fans questions on the Reds weekly "Redline" radio program in Cincinnati and Dayton Monday night via telephone from his home in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

The Cincinnati manager said the Reds have been without a "first rate" third baseman for five years with the exception of Dennis Menke. Dan

Driessen "is not a third baseman, there's no reason to cover for him," said Anderson adding that Driessen was in that position for his bat.

Anderson denied earlier reports that the Reds had offered reliever Clay Carroll, outfielder Ken Griffey and another player to Houston for Rader.

"It's not true," said Anderson, while at the same time said he rates Rader as "the best third baseman in all baseball."

Asked if the Reds plan to trade Perez, Anderson said, "I wouldn't say they wouldn't if something good came along."

But at this point I would say no."

Anderson said he observed ailing pitcher Gary Nolan pitch in the Florida instructional league and Nolan looked good "but he's going to have to get his weight down."

Nolan, who has not pitched hardly at all in the past three seasons, is making an attempted comeback after undergoing surgery a second time.

Anderson was asked why the Reds traded Roger Nelson, another sore-armed pitcher, to the Chicago White Sox.

"It's like a disease," said Anderson, recalling Nelson had continued arm trouble since he was obtained from Kansas City in 1973.

"I would rather have people around who are healthy. Having people around with sore arms is like a disease. It seems like it spreads and everybody is always worried."

Returning to the third base situation, Anderson said if the Reds are unable to trade for "a first rate third baseman we'll have to do like Oakland did with second base."

"We have the people to staff it for defensive purposes then hit for them in critical situations," he said.

The "people" included Darrel Chaney, John Vukovich and Ray Knight.

Lions lose volleyball contests

Washington's varsity and reserve volleyball teams concluded their season with losses at Hillsboro, Monday evening.

The varsity lost their fourth consecutive match by scores of 15-11 and 15-6. Before the Lions began their skid, they were 5-2. Washington's varsity finished with a 5-6 mark for the year.

Teresa Pursell collected six points and Lynn Sagar had four points to lead the varsity. Mary Ann Rudduck topped the squad with 10 set-ups.

With their third consecutive loss, the reserves finished their season with a 5-5 record. The reserve team lost the first match 15-9, won the second 15-6 and dropped the tie-breaker 15-7.

High scorer for the reserves was Becky Wheat with 15 points. Joyce Warner had 12 set-ups and Wheat collected 11.

Lions, Tigers fight to 6-6 tie

Washington Court House and Circleville fought to a 6-6 tie in a reserve contest, Saturday. The Lions came up with their score in the second frame, while the Tigers scored in the final frame.

Greg Marti's 35-yard pass to Doug Maddux accounted for the Lions' touchdown. The touchdown had been set up by Tom Dean, who picked up a Circleville fumble and ran it back to the 35-yard line of the Tigers.

Circleville's score came on a 35-yard run by Frank Merrill.

The Tigers threatened to tally the winning touchdown late in the period, but Dee Foster intercepted a pass to kill the drive.

Washington wound up with 92 yards total offense. Marti connected on three of six passes for 55 yards.

New York Islanders smash Seals, 10-1

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — There are skeptics who still doubt that the New York Islanders "are for real" this National Hockey League season, despite six victories and a tie in eight games — a record surpassed only by the Los Angeles Kings, who have played two more games.

Those doubters look beyond Monday night's 10-1 rout of the California Golden Seals to a five-games-in-eight-nights stretch which starts Wednesday night and will have the third-year New Yorkers playing against the New York Rangers, the Philadelphia Flyers twice, the Boston Bruins and the Atlanta Flames starting Wednesday night.

Al Tabor wins praise by Skorich

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Tabor stood unnoticed on the sidelines during the Cleveland Browns victory Sunday, but Coach Nick Skorich credited him with playing a major part in overcoming the 12 point deficit.

Tabor is coach of the specialty teams and it was those units that supplied two superbig plays that helped the Browns nip the Denver Broncos 23-21 in the final minutes of their football game Sunday.

"Al is always telling the teams that we need two big plays a game in order to win," Skorich said.

One of those plays was a successful fake punt-pass play and the other was Greg Pruitt's 72-yard punt return. Both plays led to touchdowns.

"Tabor came over to me and suggested the punt-pass play during the first half, like he does every game," Skorich said. "I told him that they (Denver) were covering our receivers good, but he said that Van Green (a cornerback) was fast enough to beat the coverage."

"And right after that play he had the punt return team over on the sidelines in a circle telling them they were going to go all the way."

Brian Sipe replaced quarterback Mike Phipps early in the fourth quarter and engineered the two touchdowns necessary to win and Skorich said that Wednesday will be the day that he decides if Sipe will get the starting spot in next Sunday's contest against the Chargers in San Diego.

Archie Griffin top Big Ten Player

CHICAGO (AP) — Archie Griffin, Ohio State's incomparable tailback, has been named the Big Ten Player of the Week on offense by The Associated Press.

It marks the second time this season the junior from Columbus, Ohio, has won the award.

Griffin, whom Coach Woody Hayes calls "the greatest," led the Buckeyes to a 55-7 victory over Northwestern Saturday as he rambled 173 yards in 18 carries and scored one touchdown.

Mike Ernst fired by Cincinnati Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals Coach and General Manager Paul Brown has fired a second player in three years following an arrest by police.

The Bengals placed reserve quarterback Mike Ernst on waivers following his arrest Sunday night on a charge of possession of narcotics.

OSU maintains first place grasp

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A winning attitude has helped the Temple Owls topple its first six foes this year.

In recent years "we found more ways to lose football games than win them," Temple Coach Wayne Hardin said. "But we have now learned how to win and have a winning attitude."

Following last Saturday's 21-17 victory over small-college power Delaware, Temple moved into 19th place in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Hardin cited the Delaware game as the difference between this season's Owls and the past. Delaware took a 17-14 lead in the third quarter only to see the Owls win 21-17 on a 33-yard scoring pass from senior quarterback Steve Joachim to Jeff Stempel.

"A few years ago we might have folded when Delaware went ahead on us," Hardin said. "But the kids hung tough and made the big plays when they had to."

The nation's Top Ten teams maintained their positions in the AP poll, with runner-up Oklahoma chipping away slightly at the No. 1-ranked Ohio State's comfortable lead.

Ohio State routed Northwestern 55-7 Saturday and received 45 first-place votes and 1,222 of a possible 1,260 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma crushed Kansas State 63-0 and earned 14 first-place votes and 1,123 points.

Third-ranked Michigan, a 49-0 victor over Minnesota, received two No. 1 votes, followed by fourth-place Alabama and fifth-ranked Auburn with one apiece.

Southern Cal, Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Penn State round out The AP's Top Ten.

Interviewed by telephone, Hardin said "I really haven't had time to think about being ranked. I'm worried about next week's game with Cincinnati."

Hardin says he looks forward to playing ranked teams in the future. The Owls have a 1975 date with Penn State. And Hardin knows that it's still early in the season. No Temple team has ever been ranked in a season's final poll. The Top Twenty, with firstplace votes in parentheses, season record and total points. Blazers, Southmen closing on titles

By The Associated Press

The Florida Blazers and Memphis Southmen are within one victory of clinching ties for World Football League divisional titles — but a couple of other teams will have plenty to say Wednesday night whether that big step is taken.

With three games remaining, the Blazers, 12-5, are two games ahead of the Charlotte Hornets in the East and the Southmen, 14-3, hold a two-game Central Division margin over the Birmingham Americans.

And it's the Americans who'll be trying to stay in the Central race by knocking off Florida. Memphis will have its hands full with the revived Hawaiians, 7-10 and still scratching to stay in second place in the West.

In Wednesday night's other games, Western champion Southern California, 12-5, is at Charlotte, 10-7, and Chicago, 7-10, visits Philadelphia, 7-10. On Thursday night, Shreveport hosts Portland in a battle of Western teams tied at 6-10-1.

Birmingham's got plenty of firepower in George Mira's passing to Dennis Homan and Alfred Jenkins — but the Americans, who won their first 10 games but have dropped five of their last seven, are running up against the

Brown mum on loss by Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul Brown has been coaching football since 1930, and knows what a coach is supposed to say after a ballgame.

"I'm reminded of my high school coaching days," Brown said. "The word was that when you win, you don't say much, and when you lose you say even less."

There wasn't much Brown could say about the Bengals 34-21 loss to the Houston Oilers Sunday.

"Let me make one thing clear, this was no fluke," he said. "They have a good football team and they carried it to us all the way. They outplayed us and beat us soundly."

From a statistical standpoint, it was the Oilers who took the beating. The Bengals gained 415 yards total compared to 254 for Houston, they had 26 first downs to 12 for Houston, and they outpassed the Oilers 330 to 142.

The Bengals even outfumbled Houston 5-4, and lost all their bobbles, while the Oilers recovered all of theirs.

"Anything can happen in this game and usually does," said Ron Pritchard after the game. "So and so is supposed to win the game, but that doesn't always mean much."

"We kept making the big errors," continued Brown. "We knew what to expect. We knew their defenses, their coverages their fronts. They didn't surprise us."

"They just outplayed us."

Earl Anthony wins bowling tournament

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I'm just going to concentrate on bowling well for the rest of the season," a beaming Earl Anthony said Monday night after he set a new professional bowling season earnings record.

Anthony had just captured the Canada Dry Open and the $5,000 first prize to boost his 1974 winnings to $88,255 and eclipse the $85,065 Professional Bowlers Association record set by Johnny Petraglia in 1971.

WFL's top defense. The Blazers have allowed an average of less than two touchdowns per game.

Florida, which has won five of its last six games, knows how to score, too, behind Tommy Reamon, the league's leading rusher with 1,298 yards.

Memphis ran off 11 straight victories before losing to Portland last Thursday night. Now they face the Hawaiians, who equalled the WFL scoring record with their 60-17 swamping of Chicago a week ago.

The power of the Southmen is on the ground, with J.J. Jennings, John Harvey and Willie Spencer all among the top 10 rushers. The Hawaiians will counter with an aerial attack headed by quarterback Randy Johnson passing to WFL receiving leader Tim Deaney.

Opening lead - ten of spades. Let's say declarer is playing a hand where the outcome is uncertain because it depends on how or where the defenders' cards are located. If declarer has a choice of several lines of play, he naturally assumes a distribution of the adverse cards that permits the contract to be made. To play otherwise would be a losing policy. The same principle applies to the defending side. A defender is also obliged to make favorable assumptions, as it would be downright foolish to credit declarer with a hand that renders the contract impracticable. Here is a case in point. East wins the spade lead with the ace and must decide on his best course of defense. He realizes that if South has the ace of clubs there is no chance whatever of stopping the contract, so he automatically assumes that West has it.

This in turn means there are three defensive tricks (three aces), but at the same time raises the question of how and where to obtain the setting trick. Obviously, there is no chance of West's winning a trump trick, so the only hope of beating the contract lies in winning a second diamond trick.

Since West must have the queen of diamonds for this hope to mature, East makes a second assumption on the hand by mentally assigning that card also to West. In line with this, East plays a low diamond at trick two. Declarer is helpless against this well-reasoned attack. West's queen forces the king and, after South draws trumps and attacks clubs, West takes the ace and returns a diamond to put the contract down one. With any play but a low diamond at trick two, South makes the hand.

What is 'Referred Pain'?

What is a "referred pain"? How can doctors identify it? Miss E.E.B., Mich.

Dear Miss B.: The present knowledge of physiology and neurology has given doctors greater insight into the understanding of pain, its cause and its distribution. Nerves run in very distinct courses throughout the body. With experience, doctors learn to interpret the meaning of pain, even if it is far removed from its source.

For example, kidney stones send shooting pains to the groin. Gall bladder disease refers pain to the back and the shoulders. Ulcers of the stomach may refer pain directly to the back. Heart conditions may refer pain to the left shoulder, down the arm and to the fingertips. The pain of shingles around the chest or waist may follow a band along the course of a nerve.

The pain of pleurisy may be referred to the area of the appendix and make diagnosis difficult.

The excruciating pain of trigeminal neuralgia, or "tic douloureux," may be identified by its characteristic referred pain in the head.

The art of diagnosis is a complex one and is based on experience and the interpretation of symptoms.

I had mumps at 14. Could this be responsible for impotence in a man of 38?

Mr. J.B.T., Del.

Dear Mr. T.: One of the complications of mumps may be orchitis, or an inflammation of one or both testicles.

This can cause the loss of healthy sperm production. Mumps, therefore, can be responsible for the loss of fertility rather than impotence.

The causes of impotence need careful study to find the exact reasons. Physical abnormalities and psychological stresses play an active role in the origin and the persistence of impotence.

I am often astonished by the number of men who write to me about intimate problems rather than bring them to the attention of their own doctors.

There is no shame in any physical or emotional problem.

Nader urges gas curbs

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Pressure should be put on congressional leaders to defeat proposed legislation which would deregulate the price of natural gas, consumer advocate Ralph Nader says.

Nader told a University of Dayton audience Monday the bill, sponsored by Sen. James Buckley, C-R-N.Y., would increase the price of natural gas from 45 cents to $1.40 per thousand cubic feet within the next year.

Nader's group is organizing for a "concrete and focused fight" to filibuster the proposed bill, he said.

According to Nader, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has announced opposition to the measure, while Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, probably will support it.

Nader also criticized the Justice Department for its unwillingness to aggressively seek antitrust judgments against oil companies which also own natural gas deposits.

Armco reports dividend action

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. Monday announced a 40-cent per share quarterly dividend plus a 60 cent year-end dividend payable Dec. 9.

The board also declared a $2.5 cent dividend for cumulative convertible preferred stock, payable Dec. 31 for shareholders of record Nov. 29.

William Verity, Armco chairman, said the extra year-end dividend reflects a flexible dividend policy adopted in April, 1973.

I mean, if you are a photographer, there was just no other place to be but Chicago for the international convention of the Photographic Society of America earlier this month. From all over the world, the PSA people were there with the most fantastic and beautiful photographs I have ever seen. Monochromes and color prints of outstanding beauty; color slides that were out of this world; it all came together in Chicago.

From all over the world came the top people in the fields of fine photography. The first ones I ran into that I knew were Ruth and Bob Fridenstine, (judges at the Fayette County Fair the last few years) and we (Steve Jennings and I) had dinner with them the first evening of the convention. Later that same evening we ran into Sara and Richard Swisshelm, of Hillsboro.

Everyone I saw was having a great time and enjoying the photographic displays. Steve Jennings was especially happy since, in addition to the photographic displays, he found a place that served nice thick steaks. I'm with Steve, one has to keep up one's strength at a convention like that.

It was the Swisshelms that suggested to Steve and me that we might enjoy the Chicago PSA show. They have been coming to the CKFN classes this year and last year and they seem to get much fun from photography.

Next year PSA will convene in Dallas. I, for one, will be there.

Young motorcyclist injured in mishap

A young Washington C. H. man was injured in a motorcycle-car collision at the intersection of Forest Street and Columbus Avenue at 6:08 p.m. Monday, Washington C. H. police officers reported.

William A. Vince, 21, of 1321 Nelson Place, sustained a lacerated right hand and left ankle and a fractured left knee when struck by a car driven by Virginia Lee Merritt, 41, New Holland. Vince was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital by Gerstner-Kinzer ambulance service and admitted. Hospital officials report his condition as satisfactory.

THE MOTORCYCLE he was riding at the time of the mishap was severely damaged, according to police, while the Merritt auto was moderately damaged. Ms. Merritt was cited by police officers for failure to yield right of way.

Washington C. H. police reported two other accidents in the city, while the Fayette County Sheriff's Department investigated one mishap in the county.

A minor collision involving cars driven by Connie Dean, 19, Rt. 5, and Sandra R. Butler, 34, Jeffersonville, occurred at 10:21 p.m. Monday, in the Hidy Foods parking lot at 1151 Columbus Ave., police reported.

A rear-end collision involving a car driven by Ronda F. Overly, 19, of 678 Robinson Rd., and a motorcycle driven by James E. Everhart, 30, of 224 W. Market St., occurred at the intersection of E. Market Street and S. Main Street at 6:35 p.m. Monday.

Police reported minor damage to

both vehicles involved, but no injury to either driver.

A COLLISION involving cars driven by Harold E. Goodman, 53, Portsmouth, and Maxine E. Cooper, 42, of 5191 Harmony Rd.-NW, occurred at the intersection of Milledgeville-Octa Road and U. S. 35, at 9:05 a.m. Monday, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported.

The mishap occurred when the car driven by Goodman attempted to pass the Cooper auto while Ms Cooper was engaging in a left turn.

Damage to both vehicles was moderate, but no one was cited or injured in the accident.

Ohio better off on unemployment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio is in a considerably better economic position than the rest of the nation, the director of the state Bureau of Employment Services' Division of Research and Statistics said Monday.

William Papier said current data shows the overall unemployment rate in Ohio declined to a probable 1974 low of 4.4 in September, while the national rate moved up from 5.3 to 5.7 per cent.

"We've been more fortunate than some of the other states, such as Michigan, in that we produce a lot of compact automobiles and have a large tool industry which is going rather strong," Papier said.

Arrests

SHERIFF
MONDAY — Malcolm J. McDonald 60, South Solon, intoxication.

POLICE
MONDAY — William A. Linkenhoker, 50, Springfield, intoxication; Elizabeth Lynch, 48, of 432 Peabody St., private warrant for assault; a 16-year-old Ross County youth, juvenile delinquency - runaway.

PATROL
For speeding:
MONDAY — Carolyn A. Hill, 34, E. Cleveland; Peter M. Becker, 18, Mount Vernon; Smith Cannon, 52, Parma; Carl Lear, 38, Cleveland.

SUNDAY — John R. Graham, 39, Cincinnati.

SATURDAY — Melanie C. Laux, 20, Parma.

The average hourly wage earned by Ohio's factory production workers hit an all-time high of $5.24 in September, Papier said, but still failed to keep pace with living costs.

"Whereas average hourly earnings rose 8.9 per cent over the year, living costs jumped 12.1 per cent," he said.

Papier said that the prospect for Ohio's continued economic security is uncertain, however, because "the apparently deteriorating national pattern may negatively affect Ohio's normal spring upturn."

"In the assessments of the various economic experts, you'll see a pattern of concern over the national economy for the next several months," he said. "We are affected in so far as we are not an island unto ourselves."

Papier said that significant increases in employment were reported in major nonmanufacturing industries within the state.

"The retail trade added 26,000 workers and services jumped their level by nearly 33,000," he said.

The prospect was gloomier for such industries as motor vehicles and equipment fabricated metals, rubber and plastic products, Papier said. These industries suffered "notable" declines in employment during the past year, he added.

James C. Yocum, professor of business research at Ohio State University, also predicted Ohio's good fortune would not persist.

Yocum predicted that Ohio would be hit harder than the rest of the nation if the "recession" continues into 1975.

"Ohio is a large producer of consumer durable goods such as washers, dryers and smaller household appliances," Yocum said. "These items are related to residential construction activity and this has been very depressed," he said.

Yocum said the decline in housing starts means a decreased number of appliances being installed in finished homes.

"I think along with the nation we can expect a decline in employment and an increase in unemployment in 1975," he said.

Stolen signs recovered

Deputies from the Fayette County Sheriff's Department recovered some stolen property and the Washington C.H. Police Department reported a larceny, an incident of malicious destruction and a dog bite.

Four stolen road signs from the intersections of Prairie and Dill roads, Palmer and Jasper-Coil roads, Palmer and Bush roads, and Bloomingburg and New Holland roads were recovered by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department in a ditch on Staunton-Jasper Road, just north of Snowhill Road.

The recovery was made October 25 and deputies are seeking the thief.

A new battery was stolen from a 74 model car parked at Ron Farmer's Auto Supermarket, 330 S. Main St., sometime over the weekend, Washington C.H. police reported. Value of the battery was estimated at $30 and an investigation is in progress.

An auto owned by Donald Gardner, which was parked in front of his 707 N. North St. residence, had its distributor cap and clips broken and a spark plug wire stolen, sometime between Saturday and Monday, police reported.

Kathy Spires, 12, of 707 Eastern Ave., was bitten by a dog while delivering a newspaper at 323 Gregg St., at 5:15 p.m. Monday.

Police reported the girl was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital, treated and released.

Cigarette prices hiked

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale price hikes of 70 cents per 1,000 cigarettes announced by two major tobacco firms could have some smokers paying two cents more per pack.

On Monday the Lorillard Division of Loew's Corp. said its increase will be implemented Nov. 4, and the Philip Morris, U.S.A. firm said its price boost will begin Oct. 31.

Two fires start in same manner

A fire reported by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and a fire reported by the Washington C.H. Fire Department, started the same manner, an hour apart.

The blazes were precipitated when hot truck exhaust pipes contacted dry corn stalks in a field owned by Estle Davis on Moon-Evans Road at 3:34 p.m. Monday and in a field belonging to Lester Jordan, 2099 U.S. 35-NW, at 2:44 p.m. Monday.

The Jeffersonville Township Fire Department responded to the fire on the Evans property and reported slight damage, while Washington C.H. firemen, who were on the scene at the Jordan residence, reported extinguishing the blaze with water and fire brooms. They stopped the fire before it entered a wooded area, by discing part of a soybean field owned by David Carr.

Washington C.H. Firemen E.J. Helt injured his back while fighting the Jordan fire, but was not treated.

Three other fires were reported by the Washington C.H. Fire Department today.

At 8:52 a.m. Tuesday, firemen responded to a tree fire at the Fred

Burr residence on Mount Olive Road. Burr had been burning unwanted materials after cleaning up a wooded area and his small fire ignited a big ash tree. Firemen were summoned when Burr became fearful the tree would fall across Mount Olive Road.

High pressure hoses were used to force water into the tree, part of which was hollow and dead.

A leaf pile at the Mrs. William Wead

residence at 717 W. Elm St., was set afire at 7:35 p.m. Monday, for the third time, firemen reported. They doused the pile with water and are presently conducting an investigation.

A corn field behind 702 Gibbs Avenue, owned by Producers Livestock Association was set on fire by children playing with matches. This fire was also subdued with water by Washington C.H. firemen.
